Dulles Asserts U. S. Must Share A-Weapon Secrets

Allies Could Delay Russ Domination

Says Partnership Plan Would Speed Arms Limitation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles told Congress today the United States must share atomic weapons secrets with its allies else the Soviet Union will dominate them with nuclear superiority.

In testimony prepared for a Senate-House Atomic Energy subcommittee, Dulles backed an administration bill to permit this country to share know-how, weapons materials and some parts with the friendly nations.

Asked Specific Views

The subcommittee asked him specifically for an official view on how such sharing would affect efforts to bring about international arms limitation.

Dulles replied the legislation is indispensable for that purpose. In the first place, he said, the free nations which do not now have atomic weapons—that is, all but the United States and Great Britain—are understandably not eager to have agreements perpetuating for all time their present nuclear weapons inferiority.

Make Allies Partners

"The situation is altered," Dulles continued, "if the United States can and will deploy nuclear weapons for common defensive use in case of armed aggression, and share knowledge which will make our allies partners in this endeavor. Failure to do this will create resistance, perhaps insuperable resistance, to the international control needed to prevent, over coming years, the promiscuous spreading, and possible irresponsible use, of nuclear weapons."

MUST PAY—Mrs. Barbara (Bobo) Sears Rockefeller must pay a third of the fees to Attorney Leo C. Fennelly for services connected with the divorce of Bobo from Winthrop Rockefeller. The award was made by a New York State Supreme Court jury yesterday and with disbursements and interest amounts to more than $36,000. Probers Dig Into Alleged Fund Thefts

Teamsters' Union Philadelphia Local Officials Summoned

WASHINGTON (AP)—Edward F. Walker, recording secretary of Philadelphia Teamster Union Local 107, refused today to tell the Senate Rackets Committee whether he got $625 in kickbacks from union members.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rackets Committee sought to show today whether threats have sealed the lips of Philadelphia Teamsters Union officials on alleged big-scale thefts of union funds.

The committee called more business agents and organizers of Philadelphia Local 107.

Fourteen other union officials and members refused to answer questions yesterday, claiming the Fifth Amendment's protection against self-incrimination.

Include President

They included the local's president, Joseph Grace, who refused to tell the committee whether he had profited from stolen union funds, including thousands of dollars from allegedly forged checks drawn on the union's treasury. Answers, Grace said, "might incriminate me."

But he also told the committee's chairman, Sen. McClellan (D-Ark): "Senator, for your information, I never done a dishonest thing in my life."

Threatened To 'Fix'

John Flanagan, a committee investigator, had testified earlier he has been informed that the local's secretary-treasurer, Ray Cohen, had threatened to "fix" any unionist who gave testimony adverse to Cohen in the committee's investigation.

The committee has described Cohen as the real boss of the local.

World Bank Leader Not Pessimistic

'Long Run' Economy Prospects Good But World Fears Aid Cut

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Eugene R. Black, head of the World Bank, said today "I am not pessimistic about the current economic situation."

Black made the statement in a report to the U.N. Economic and Social Council.

The 59-year-old banker from Atlanta, Ga., conceded that the slowing down of economic activity in North America is being watched throughout the world with some fear that it may forebode a slowing down of investment and economic growth everywhere.

Long-Run Prospects Good

"Whatever the prospects for the short run, I think it is clear that in the longer run they are good," he added. "There is still great momentum in the economic progress of the underdeveloped countries.

"It would be deeply unfortunate if a preoccupation with domestic economic problems in the developed countries should lead to such a diminution of international aid and investment that this momentum were lost.

"But it would be a greater tragedy still if the developing countries were not to realize that their economic growth depends on their own efforts more now than at any time in the past decade."

Planning, Work, Thrift

He said the times call for intelligent planning, hard work and thrift.

The bank's program of loans for productive purposes, and encouragement of investment hit a peak this year, Black said in his annual report.

In the fiscal year to end June 31, the bank probably will have lent well over 650 million dollars—a record.

Moss Attacks Defense Data Manipulation

Department Attempts To Manage News On Missiles, Satellites

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Society of Newspaper Editors was told today the Defense Department has manipulated information in an attempt to manage the news about missiles and satellites.

The charge was made by Rep. Moss (D-Calif), chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee. Moss' bill to remove some government secrecy wraps was approved unanimously by the House yesterday.

Moss told 400 editors, opening their annual meeting here, that immediately after the Soviets sent Sputnik I into space the Pentagon issued secret orders to "muzzle the experts who could explain our predicament."

Dangerous Directive

Within the past few days, Moss added in his prepared speech, President Eisenhower has issued a "dangerous" directive to Secretary of Defense McElroy calling for tighter control over Defense Department information as a curb on interservice rivalries.

"Under the President's new instructions," Moss said, "This abuse of the security system would become worse, with Mr. Snyder (Asst. Secretary of Defense Murray Snyder) apparently set up as the undisputed censor of what the public shall know about the vast military establishment.

"The nation no longer can afford the withholding and manipulation of information merely to suit 'policies.'"

Management Of News

Moss charged that the handling of information on missiles and satellites has been "an example of management of the news on a colossal scale."

"Security has been perverted as a tool of censorship," he said. "Controversy has been smothered and shortcomings hidden in the name of national security."

However, the society hailed some gains in its long war on news suppression.

Herbert Brucker, chairman of the ASNE Committee on Freedom of Information, said House passage of the Moss bill was a "first dent in the wall of secrecy that has grown up in the government since World War II."

French Will Accept U. S. Missile Base

PARIS (AP)—Gen. Lauris Norstad told Allied defense ministers today France has agreed to accept U.S. medium-range missile bases and nuclear warheads. An accord with the United States is being negotiated, he added.

A senior official reported that the supreme Allied commander in Europe told the ministers several other European countries have indicated in exploratory talks they will also accept missile bases.

Norstad and French officials had said earlier the talks were only in the preliminary stages.

The Foreign Ministry confirmed negotiations were under way which would lead to the bases being established in France if successful. It did not spell out the conditions of what France was asking.

College Men Get Break; Girls Pay

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — This is the week the men students at the University of Illinois never had it so good.

It's called the men's "Economic Recovery Campaign," part of a spring campus celebration. The men are not allowed to pay for dates—the coeds pick up all the tabs. The girls also are required to open car doors, carry books and call for the men for dates.

NEW YORK (AP)—Stock market prices were uneven in quiet early trading Thursday.

West Awaits Pre-Summit Talk Decision

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson was summoned to the Foreign Ministry this afternoon, apparently for the first diplomatic discussion preparatory to a summit conference.

Thompson met 35 minutes with Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko. As he left he smiled and told correspondents:

"I can't comment on anything."

It appeared certain, however, the meeting resulted from the note the three Western Powers sent the Soviet government yesterday offering to begin presummit diplomatic exchanges today.

There was no indication immediately that the British and French ambassadors had been summoned for similar talks. All three envoys had made themselves available throughout the day in compliance with their government's communication.

Worker 'Hoaxed' By Those Urging Higher Pay Rate

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Board Chairman Roger M. Blough of the U.S. Steel Corp. said today a dangerous hoax is being perpetrated on American workers by persons who recommend higher wages as a means of increasing consumer purchasing power.

In a luncheon speech prepared for the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, Blough said: "They know that higher wage costs can only be met by higher prices, so that in the end no increase in purchasing power results. Meanwhile the ability of the American workmen to compete with their industrious counterparts abroad is further diminished, thus shrinking the market for American products and diminishing the number of available American jobs.

"The only practical way to keep foreign-made products from overcrowding our markets here at home is to compete on equal terms in quality, in price and in service; and the only practical way to reach foreign markets successfully is to keep our costs—which means primarily our wage costs—competitive."

Khrushchev 64

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev was 64 today but the Soviet press made no fuss about it. None of Moscow's leading morning papers commented on the Soviet Premier's anniversary.

King Baudouin Opens

Brussels World's Fair Presents Vivid Scenes

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — King Baudouin today opened the gates of the postwar world's biggest international exposition and invited the peoples of the earth to get together at the fair.

It is the first World's Fair since New York's in 1939.

"With immense hope we now open the Brussels World's Fair of 1958," the 27-year-old monarch told a cheering audience, "Science is not sufficient to great civilizations. This requires a parallel development of our moral conceptions and our will to achieve them through constructive effort."

The King explained that this was the great idea which inspired the Belgian people to invite the world to fraternize at the World's Fair.

Forty-one countries will exhibit their achievements in the arts and sciences for the next four months, drawing up what Fair Commissioner Baron Moens de Fernig described as a balance sheet for a more humane world.

A gray, cold day held down the size of the opening morning crowd. But thousands poured through the gates, even though the fair's foreign section was far from finished.

It was a vivid scene with fountains sparkling, bands playing, trumpets sounding, flags flying and a guard on horseback following the King and his brother Prince Albert, both in uniform.

The King spoke in the auditorium of the Belgian section to an

Road Funds Action Seen In Few Days

Ike Signs Highway Bill; States To Get Cash, Cooperation

WASHINGTON (AP) — First apportionments of federal funds to the states under the new highway construction bill are expected within the next few days.

A Bureau of Public Roads spokesman said, "We will cooperate with the states just as hard as we can to make this bill work."

President Eisenhower signed the big measure yesterday — the last day on which he could act — but expressed "serious misgivings" about what he called serious defects in it.

Democratic and Republican leaders in Congress said the measure should give a substantial lift to the economy.

Two Apportionments

These are the two apportionments to the states which can be made immediately under the bill:

400 million dollars of extra federal money for fiscal 1959 for primary, secondary and urban road systems — often designated A-B-C roads. This would have to be matched by 200 million of state money but the states could borrow 115 million of their share from Washington. Projects must be under contract by Dec. 1 this year.

200 million dollars by extra U.S. grants for the interstate system of superhighways for fiscal 1959. This would have to be matched on the usual 90-10 basis.

These amounts are in addition to 875 million of A-B-C money and two billion of interstate grants apportioned to the states last year for fiscal 1959.

Can Be Spent At Once

All the money can be spent at once; the states do not have to wait until the fiscal year begins July 1.

In addition, the bill makes possible these federal apportionments in July, instead of December:

2½ billion dollars of interstate system money for fiscal 1960. Without the new law, only $1,600,000,000 would have been available.

900 million dollars by A-B-C funds for fiscal 1960. These would be matched on the usual 50-50 basis.

Eisenhower centered his critcism on the 400-million-dollar special A-B-C fund, particularly on the provisions which changed for it the long-standing 50-50 matching formula and which permitted the loans to states of part of their share.

The President said he would resist any attempt to repeat these provisions in the future.

Sen. Gore (D-Tenn), chief sponsor of the measure, said the President's statement indicates "he is against the provision of the bill designed to break the back of the recession."

Sub Warning Line Rushed

PARIS (AP) — The United States, Britain and Canada today were reported rushing work on an electronic warning line far out in the Atlantic to prevent the Soviet Union's submarine fleet from splitting North America from Europe in case of war.

The disclosure came from an official here for the meeting of the 15 defense ministers of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Defense of the Atlantic sealanes is the primary responsibility of the United States, Britain and Canada.

They have concluded that, despite all countermeasures, the Soviet fleet of 500 submarines could stop convoys during the first six or more critical weeks of any global war.

Warm Weather Due To Continue In Eastern U. S.

By The Associated Press

More summer-like weather was in prospect for much of the mid-continent today with the warmer air headed into most of the Eastern third of the country.

Wet weather was the outlook for many sections in the Western half of the country.

Skies cleared during the night in the mid and south Atlantic coastal areas after heavy downpours and gusty winds swept wide parts of the Southeast for two days. Although it was generally cool along the Atlantic coastal region during the night, fair and mild weather was expected during the day.

The mild weather belt extended from the Plains to the Appalachians and temperatures during the night ranged in the 60s through the Plains and upper Mississippi Valley.

Java Marines Hit Coast Of Sumatra

Train Robbed; Gunman Flees

SYDNEY, N. S. (AP) — A masked gunman held up the mail car on the Canadian National Railway's Sydney express early today, looted it and escaped after locking two mail clerks in a washroom.

It was the first train robbery in Cape Breton Island's history. Royal Canadian Mounted Police and postal authorities said they don't know yet what was stolen.

A mail carrier who met the train at Little Bras d'Or about 6:10 a. m. discovered the robbery. He found the car doors closed and heard the clerks hammering.

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Marines from Java landed on the west coast of Sumatra today in the Jakarta government's promised major bid to smash the two-month-old rebellion against President Sukarno.

Premier Djuanda said the invaders met little initial resistance.

The navy said the amphibious invasion began at dawn, reportedly at the Indian Ocean beach of Tiku. It is 35 miles west of the rebel mountain capital of Bukittinggi and 50 miles up the coast from the port of Padang. They are the last major centers held by the Sumatran rebels.

According To Plan

The landing of two companies of Marine commandos went "according to plan and was highly successful," the navy said. A spokesman predicted that the rebellion would be crushed within a week.

Three columns of Jakarta ground forces were converging on Bukittinggi from the northwest, east and southeast. About a dozen important rebel administrative officers left the capital but Premier Sjadruddin and his insurgent Cabinet remained there.

Rebel Intent Uncertain

It was uncertain whether the rebels would now risk their first major battle with the Jakarta forces after falling back before their land drives. There seems to have been a determined effort to avoid shooting clashes which might prevent formulation of a political settlement later.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio said in Tokyo not more than 110 persons had been killed so far in the two-month-old civil war.

Atlantic Pact 'Modernizing' Defense Plan

PARIS (AP)—The defense ministers of the Atlantic Alliance agreed today on a stronger defensive shield in Europe based on missiles, larger ground forces and coordinated arms production.

A communique at the end of a three-day session said the ministers endorsed:

1. Plans submitted by the seven ministers of the Western European Union to broaden cooperation in research, development and production of new and highly complicated weapons.

2. A report submitted by Gen. Lauris Norstad, supreme allied commander in Europe, asking for 28 to 30 divisions. He has about half that number now.

The ministers expressed hope that modernization of their forces will strengthen the allied hand in efforts to re-establish international confidence by controlled disarmament. The communique did not mention possible summit talks with the Soviet Union in this connection.

The ministers reaffirmed that the aim of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is defensive and for the preservation of world peace.

Wife Of Doctor Has Quadruplets

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Quadruplets were born yesterday, one month premature, to the wife of a Piedmont plastic surgeon.

The three girls and a boy — weighing a total of 18 pounds and 8½ ounces — were delivered within 13 minutes and were placed in an incubator.

Dr. and Mrs. H. Dean Hoskins have three other girls — Judith, 14, Barbara, 12, and Martha Jean, 6.

Finish Fight On Revamp Plan Begins

Editors Told Survival Depends On Strength Militarily, Otherwise

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today accused congressional critics of his defense reorganization plan of talking nonsense and raising farfetched objections.

Urging swift approval of the controversial plan by Congress, Eisenhower said "peace, national safety—survival itself—demand of America the utmost strength in its every respect—spiritual, intellectual and scientific, as well as economic and military."

Formally opening the finish fight he has pledged to make for the reorganization program, Eisenhower appealed for support to two audiences.

Answers Challenge

His speech was prepared for a luncheon meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors and the International Press Institute. It also was broadcast coast to coast on television and radio.

Eisenhower spoke out in the face of a sharp challenge to his proposal from one of the most influential lawmakers at the Capitol—Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the House Armed Services Committee.

Within hours after the President sent his proposal formally to the Congress yesterday, Vinson cut loose in a House speech in which he called it a move toward setting up a "Prussian-type supreme high command."

Vinson also moved to give uniformed critics of the reorganization plan a public forum for their objections. He announced that hearings on the plan, which his committee will start Tuesday, will be open-door affairs.

Some other members of Congress besides Vinson have been sharply critical of the reorganization plan.

'Prussian' Idea 'Nonsense'

Taking note of Vinson criticism without mentioning him by name, Eisenhower said foes of the plan will contend it seeks to set up "a monstrous general staff—usually called 'Prussian' "and that such a staff in the critics view would be set up "to dominate our armed forces and in due course will threaten our liberty."

"That is nonsense," Eisenhower said.

Eisenhower also hit at those who contend the plan, which would concentrate much new authority in the secretary of defense, would make that official "a 'czar' who will overwhelm our liberty." He denied this.

It will likely be said, in addition, that these proposals will violate the responsibilities of Congress, especially its power over the purse, Eisenhower said in reference to his plan for giving the secretary of defense greater flexibility in handling military money.

"As I have said, that is equally far fetched," Eisenhower said.

Tunisia Airs New Threat

TUNIS (AP) — President Habib Bourguiba today gave France seven days to get a new government to deal with the French-Tunisian dispute. Otherwise, he said, he will charge France again with aggression before the U.N. Security Council.

Speaking on his weekly broadcast to his people, the Tunisian President coupled his ultimatum to the French with lavish praise for U.S. policies. He urged all the free peoples of Africa to stand firm with the United States against communism.

With little or no chance of a government being formed in Paris to meet Bourguiba's deadline, it appeared certain the French-Tunisian dispute would go back to the Council. With it almost certainly will go a Tunisian demand — which the Soviets will back to the hilt — that the Council also take up the Algerian rebellion as the root of the trouble between France and Tunisia.

Byrd Says Decline Nears End; Sees Upturn By Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Byrd (D-Va) said today information compiled by the Senate Finance Committee indicates to him the recession has about hit bottom and an economic upturn can be expected by fall.

Byrd, who heads the committee, said in an interview that most of the group's correspondence from business leaders and others shows there is "considerably less apprehension about the economic situation among the people than we had thought."

"Most of the people seem to feel that we have had a boom for 15 years and now we are in a leveling-off period," he said. "There is nothing to indicate that we are likely to have a severe depression.

"I think we have about hit bottom and can expect an upturn next fall."

The Finance Committee recently asked the heads of the 12 Federal Reserve banks and about 100 business leaders to give their views on business conditions and to make recommendations on possibe antirecession measures.

While Byrd said the returns from this questionnaire have not all been tabulated, he is convinced there is no widespread demand for a general tax cut in the face of declining federal revenues.

Gambler 'Oversimplifies' Tax Filing; Must Refigure

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Birmingham, Ala., gambler who filed the sort of simple income tax return everybody dreams about today had orders from the U.S. Tax Court to do some complex recalculations.

The court said that U. O. Popwell oversimplified the matter in 1949-50-51. He filed returns consisting of a single figure represented as showing how far he was ahead as to wins and losses at the end of the year.

The court quoted Popwell as explaining: "At the end of the year I filed enough to take care of the government and I thought that was all that was necessary to stay out of trouble with them."

The Internal Revenue Service contended that under the method employed, Popwell underpaid his taxes for the three years by about $350,000 and claimed he owed some $175,000 in penalties on this amount.

The court directed a refiguring of the returns — in detail.

Report Slated To Ask Deep Cut In Taxes

Rockefeller Fund Action To Add New Fuel To Discussion

NEW YORK — (INS) — A deep, broadly based tax cut will be a leading recommendation of the Rockefeller report on the nation's economy.

The report, scheduled to be made public next week, is considered certain to add new fuel to congressional agitation for a tax cut before the November election.

It was learned today that, although a big tax slash is a principal recommendation, the survey by the independent Rockefeller brothers fund is not expected to specify the exact nature or amount.

One member of the fund's special economic panel, which met in New York last night, publicly has urged a $5,000,000,000 cut. An informant insisted, however, that no specific figure is under consideration.

Former President Harry S. Truman in House testimony Monday urged a $5,000,000,000 tax slash to benefit lower and middle income taxpayers.

However, President Eisenhower said yesterday he still sees no present need to cut taxes.

And, within the administration, Treasury Secretary Robert B. Anderson heads a strong faction known to feel the cut might be inflationary, in addition to creating a large budget deficit.

So far, budding tax cuts proposed in Congress have been quashed by the Democratic majority leaders acting in concert with the administration.

The new Rockefeller report will be the second in a series of surveys on the condition of the United States during the next ten to 15 years.

It was said to cover all sides of the economic picture, excepting education and the nation's human resources.

Algiers Bomb Damages U. S. Consulate Site

ALGIERS (AP) — A crude bomb blew up today in the entryway of the building housing the American consulate in Algiers. A moslem cleaning woman opening the door was seriously injured.

The consulate is on the fourth floor of the building.

The bombing was the second involving American diplomatic installations in Algiers. A bomb previously had been exploded in the building housing the U.S. Information Agency but little damage was done.

There were no Americans in the consulate building at the time of the explosion. The blast blew out the door and scarred the walls but caused no other damage.

New Armory Approved At Williamson, W. Va.

CHARLESTON (AP)—The adjutant general's office announced today that the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D.C. has approved a contract for the construction of a National Guard Armory at Williamson.

The $217,542 armory will be built by the Neighborgall Construction Co. of Huntington.

Senate Sends Public Works Bill To House

Demo-Sponsored Move Is Opposed By Ike's Regime

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed another on the list of Democratic-sponsored antirecession bills — a billion-dollar federal loan fund for city public works projects.

The measure now goes to the House, where key Democrats have introduced similar legislation.

The Senate passed the bill last night 60-22 despite Eisenhower administration opposition and after overriding Republican attempts to tone down major provisions.

Forty Democrats and 20 Republicans voted for passage, with 4 Democrats and 22 Republicans opposed.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) called the public works bill an extremely important measure. He said more proposals to combat the recession would be coming along.

The public works bill authorizes a billion dollars of loans running up to 50 years at a 3½ per cent interest rate for a wide variety of public works projects including school and hospital construction as well as such standby works as streets and sewers.

The loans would be available both to cities and states, but sponsors said they expected it would chiefly benefit smaller cities. Many of these are unable to borrow at lower than 3½ per cent, the sponsors said.

Four hundred million dollars would be a revolving fund to be used over and over as loans were repaid. The other 600 million would be available for lending only once.

Officials Report Nation's Output Dips $15 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—Government officials estimated today the nation's production rate has fallen about 15 billion dollars a year below the boom level of six months ago.

The Commerce Department's estimate of total national output, soon to be released, reportedly will show that the 7½-billion-dollar skid in the last quarter of 1957 was approximately equaled by the further drop in first-quarter 1958.

The report will bolster the evidence that the recession already is deeper than that of 1953-4, informants said, and in several respects is matching the sharper slump of 1949-50.

The trends last month still were downward. The fall was less rapid, and this has stiffened the resistance of key administration advisers to quick antirecession remedies—a general tax cut or massive public works.

Some officials contend they see signs that the bottom is near.

The forthcoming Commerce Department report, officials said privately, will show that the "gross national product" — the value of all goods and services produced—has dipped to an annual rate of roughly 425 billion dollars or less.

This is a bit more than 3 per cent below last summer's 440-billion-dollar rate. It was a trifle greater than the percentage decline from top to bottom of the 1953-54 recession. It matches the more severe 1949-50 decline when that recession was half a year old.

Cardinal Stritch Sails For Rome; Feted To Dinner

NEW YORK (INS) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch sails for Rome today to assume his new post as director of the Roman Catholic Church's mission work.

The 70-year-old prelate, archbishop of Chicago, was guest of honor last night at a dinner attended by America's three other cardinals — Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit and Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles — and other high-ranking clergymen.

There are approximately 14,000,000 people in the United States more than 65 years of age.

Crazy-Quilt Pattern Across U. S.:

Daylight Saving Time To Begin On April 27

By The Associated Press

A crazy-quilt pattern of daylight saving time will dot the nation starting April 27.

Some states will observe it; some not. Parts of other states will join in. Most of those that do go on "fast time" will end it Oct. 26; others on Sept. 28 and other dates.

Generally, the pattern is about the same as last year.

All the New England states will observe daylight saving time from April 27 until Oct. 26, as will New York, New Jersey, most of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Washington, D.C.

Others setting the clocks ahead an hour will be Indiana, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Nevada and California.

Parts of Indiana, in the Central time belt, already are an hour ahead. Some areas in the northeast part of the state, including Fort Wayne and Elkhart, and in the southeast near Cincinnati have been on Eastern time by local option all through the winter.

On Split Schedules

States with split schedules include Illinois, Ohio, Missouri, Kentucky, Virginia, Maryland, West Virginia, Alabama and Florida.

Virginia will remain on standard time except in the northern suburban areas near Washington, where daylight time will be observed from April 27 to Oct. 26.

In West Virginia, daylight time will be confined largely to the northern Panhandle, including Wheeling and Weirton, and the eastern Panhandle, centering at Martinsburg.

Kentucky has a complex situation. The Legislature banned fast time after June 19. Louisville will go on daylight time from April 27 until June 14, then switch back to Central Standard Time unless the new law is defeated in court. Louisville schools and many factories will leave the clocks on standard time but start the day an hour early.

Air, Missile Exception

Alabama, with the exception of Huntsville, where the Redstone Arsenal is located, and Florida, with the exception of Eglin Air Force Base, will remain on standard.

In New Mexico, Los Alamos will go on daylight time April 27, but the rest of the state will stay on standard.

Fallout Fear Seen Halting Soviet Tests

Recent Statements Support Theory Of Catastrophic Mishap

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Soviet leadership seems to be exhibiting anxiety over the extent of radioactive fallout within U.S.S.R. territory.

Reports of heavy fallout concentration appear to have seeped through to the Soviet public, and possibly the Kremlin feels resultant popular alarm might burgeon into panic. The Soviets thus may have felt themselves forced to call off their nuclear weapons tests.

A study of recent Soviet press statements concerning radioactivity indicates support for a recent report from Denmark that some sort of catastrophic accident had caused heavy fallout over the Soviet Union.

Wanted To Halt Leaks

This report, noting that the Soviets recently barred foreign travelers from certain sections of the U.S.S.R., speculated that the Soviets wanted to prevent news of an atomic accident from getting out and spreading popular anxiety.

However, an accident may not have been responsible. The Soviets completed a series of nuclear weapon tests just in advance of their announcement of an intention to suspend testing. Since they scoffed at the idea of a "clean" nuclear bomb with little fallout, it seems unlikely they expended much effort in producing one, and thus it is likely they tested dirty weapons with heavy fallout.

Propaganda Advantage

Soviet Communists habitually try to make the best of a disadvantageous situation. Forced to give a nervous public at least a promise that tests on Soviet soil would cease, the Kremlin may have decided to take propaganda advantage of a move which could not be avoided. Thus, it challenged the United States to follow its example and announce a halt to all testing of nuclear weapons.

Lining the square were pretty girls, each holding the flag of a nation at the fair.

Baudouin pressed a button on a flag-bedecked dais. Nothing happened. He pressed again and a tiny flame lit up in the center of the grounds.

Elsewhere in the grounds of the ancient royal park on which the fair is built thousands milled about to see the show. It was not a bubbling holiday crowd in the American sense, however. There was no boisterous gaiety, no shouting and yelling, no shrieks of youngsters.

Why the 1958 PLYMOUTH is

BEST BUY...
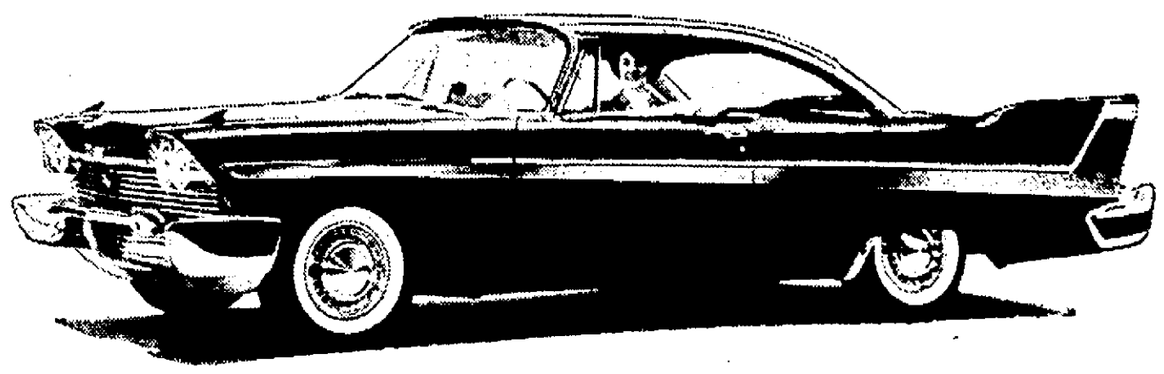
BEST TRADE



TODAY'S BEST BUY is Plymouth because only Plymouth gives you, as standard equipment on all models at no extra cost to you, great advances not available on the other two in the low-price "3" at any price. Among these:

Torsion-Aire, a revolutionary new suspension system that provides the world's easiest and most level ride, without roll or sway.

Total-Contact Brakes, with 2 cylinders in each front brake instead of just one, for faster, smoother, safer, dive-free stops.

Independent Parking Brake, the only one in the low-price "3" that isn't connected with the foot-brake system.

Biggest Windshield, more glass area. More inside roominess than either of the "other two."

118-inch Wheelbase on even the lowest-priced models. Plus many other features.

TOMORROW'S BEST TRADE will be Plymouth because Plymouth's clean, low, graceful Silver Dart styling will not look "dated" when trade-in time comes. What's more, Plymouth will still be the only 1958 car with the mechanical improvements that make it today's best buy!

So see your Plymouth dealer for value tomorrow as well as today. Your first choice in the low-price "3" can only be . . .

U. S. Senator W. Kerr Scott's Death Cuts Demo Lead To One

BURLINGTON, N.C. (AP) — U.S. Sen. W. Kerr Scott died in a hospital here yesterday.

Scott, who would have been 62 today, suffered a coronary attack a week ago.

His death reduced the Democratic majority in the Senate to one, 48-47, and made 34 Senate seats up for election in November.

Gov. Luther H. Hodges, a Democrat, will appoint a successor to serve until the November general election. The Democratic State Executive Committee will nominate the party's candidate for fall elections.

Funeral services for Scott, a tobacco-chewing dairy farmer who championed the rural people all his life, will be held at the Hawfields Presbyterian Church near his Haw River home tomorrow. Burial will be in the Scott family plot in the church cemetery.

Scott began his public life as a county farm agent. He served 12 years as North Carolina's agriculture commissioner before winning a four-year term as govenor in 1948. He won his seat in the U.S. Senate in 1954 by defeating Alton A. Lennon, who had been appointed to succeed Willis Smith. Smith also died in office.

Survivors include his widow, two sons and a daughter.

Bielas Comet broke in two in 1856 and has disappeared.

Useful Acid

Sulphuric acid is considered the most useful acid in industry. There is hardly a manufactured article in common use today which does not depend upon sulphuric acid either directly or indirectly.

Four Captured After Anne Arundel Escape

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — A trusty and three other prisoners escaped from Anne Arundel County jail after beating a guard unconscious last night and were recaptured early today in Fredericksburg, Va.

The four men, heading south in a stolen car, were stopped at 3:10 a. m. for a routine check by State Trooper H. F. Fitzgerald. He arrested the fugitives when he discovered they had no registration.

The men were being held in Fredericksburg city jail pending extradition proceedings.

Warden Lawrence Vlna of the Annapolis jail said Grover Leddy, 18, of Odenton, Md., a trusty assigned as a tier runner, sneaked up on the night guard, William Wiedefeld, 62, as the guard was preparing to lock up six prisoners for the night in an eight-cell unit.

The warden said Leddy struck Wiedefeld on the head with his fist, throwing him against the gear box which controls the cell door locks. Then the young prisoner threw the guard against the bars of the outer enclosure where he was grabbed by other prisoners and beaten again.

Three prisoners elected to stay in their cells when Leddy released the others.

Escaping with Leddy were Wallace Reid, 18, of Churchton, Md., awaiting trial on a larceny charge; John Scanlon, 130, of Green Haven, Md., also held for trial on a larceny charge, and William Davis, 19, of Annapolis, accused of violating his parole and stealing.

Leddy was serving a 75-day sentence for motor vehicle violations.

Wiedefeld was taken to Anne Arundel General Hospital here where he was treated for a head wound. A resident of Annapolis, he was a former naval academy employe and had been a night guard for several years.

Police said Leddy and the three other fugitives broke into a service station owned by Leddy's father, Jesse D. Leddy, shortly after the escape and stole some cash.

Then they stole a car owned by John C. Horky of Annapolis and about five hours later were apprehended in Virginia.

Virginia authorities said the men offered no resistance when they were recaptured. They were expected to waive extradition, paving the way to a quick return to Annapolis.

Three Hollywood Marriages End Up In Divorce

HOLLYWOOD—(INS) — Three more Hollywood marriages, including Marie McDonald's, have ended in divorce.

A final decree that ended "The Body's" stormy marriage to wealthy shoe retailer Harry Karl was entered in Superior Court yesterday.

Mrs. Yvonne Hover divorced Herman Hover, owner of the famous night spot, Ciro's now closed, in Las Vegas.

English Actress Patricia Owens was granted a California divorce from Producer Sidney (Sy) Bartlett on grounds of mental cruelty.

Under a property settlement reached in 1956, Miss McDonald will receive $3,500 a month for three years and then $2,000 a month for life. She also will receive $250 a month support for each of her three children, two of them adopted.

Mrs. Hover was given $160 a month for the support of the two Hover children. Hover's attorney said there may be litigation over the division of community property.

Miss Owens waived alimony. She has no children.

OUR COUNTRY

The union of hearts, the union of hands and the Flag of our Union forever.—Morris.

Abstractions

YOU'D THINK BY now that everybody would have accepted the idea that continuity with the past is one of the main strands of life. To build well we must build on what went before. It seems a commonplace of history, however, that in every age a good many artists try to defy the fact of this continuity. Evidently the necessity for intense belief in themselves drives them to reject the work of other men in other times.

TODAY'S controversies over abstract art and modern music stem partly from disagreement over the merits of this work and partly from the fact that many of the practicing artists appear to throw out of the window all that has gone before. In taking this stance, as we've seen, they're doing what countless of their predecessors have done. But there is one difference. Earlier artists and composers, whether they tried to reject or not, were in fact building on the greats who had preceded them. Modern composers seem deliberately to trip up any emotional links between their work and the music of the past. They insist on having their product judged in isolation, on totally new terms.

THE ABSTRACT painters do the same, declining to "represent" the world about them on canvas, demanding that we react emotionally to vivid color splashings which only occasionally take on any form at all. In time this work may have wide acceptance. But will the abstract artists' argument that theirs is the only view of life? It can't really be true that it can never be right again to paint a tree, or a beautiful woman, a pounding sea or a cloud-flecked sky. These will endure when the abstractionists are but a vague splotch of color in the world's memory.

Just Rent It

THIS IS THE DAY of the service trades. Put your money on the line and you can rent something you don't want to buy or get something done you can't do or don't want to do. Many of the jobs mother used to perform around the house are done now by shops outside. The rest of the time she's running household machinery which usually has to be repaired by outside servicemen. To supplement their labor-saving equipment, many people rent tools for use around the house, like sanders, drills, saws and floor polishers. Things have got to the point where even manufacturers rent tools and machinery, and then the buildings to put them in. Nobody's figured out a way to rent food, but the retailers of fresh-baked and ready-cooked foods are doing fine. Clothes, of course, are a service item from 'way back. Especially since America went casual and dress affairs became uncommon, the dress suit renters have done well. If we're lucky, in another 10 years we'll be able to rent people to put the suits on and go to boring dinners in our place.

Search For Anchors

PSYCHIATRISTS, psychologists and social philosophers are increasingly calling modern man's attention to the fact that he may be caught on the horns of a dilemma — that he has lost his sense of identification with his environment, and is not sure who he is, where he came from or where he is going. This can all sound vague and even pretentious, when what these men say is couched in scholarly language. But almost anyone can sense what it is they feel and are trying to tell us. Two world wars, together with the impact of tremendous additions to theoretical knowledge, have shaken presuppositions by which Western civilization has been held together for centuries. To many who have been reflecting on these things, the title of C. G. Jung's book, "Modern Man in Search of a Soul," epitomizes their gropings. When this loss of a sense of direction becomes chronic, Communism is quick to step in with its program whereby each man offers himself and his energies to the service of the state. Sadly, this "lamb to the slaughter" technique has many takers. A free society, because it places each man on his own resources, is faced with the challenge of providing new anchors for those who find themselves drifting away from basic premises of their youth. Such anchors are badly needed by many Americans.

Ike And Nixon At Odds In Recession Plan

WASHINGTON.—The President has not accepted Vice-President Richard M. Nixon's political judgment about the recession though it is a judgment with which many government economists, past and present, agree. Nixon will, in fact, be in South America as the White House and Congress move into the clinches on a tax cut and other proposed recession cures.

The President has also blandly knocked down suggestions that he ought to give the Vice-President a position productive of real executive experience. It is an odd circumstance that Nixon has never spent a day in an executive office, but it is true.

The Vice-President, who works every day at politics, is thoroughly unhappy about these developments, but he can only bide his time. They, of course, deal heavy blows to the legend that he is at the heart of the governmental machine, mastering its every detail and wielding real power.

IT WOULD be difficult to suggest decisions more important to the Republican future than those being taken with respect to the economic decline. In the background of every GOP officeholder's thoughts must be the Hoover years and the great Depression which led to so many votes of no confidence in that party.

The Vice-President, of course, has his own immediate future in mind. He can and does to a measure disassociate himself from Eisenhower positions, but he knows he must run, if nominated, on the Eisenhower record, exactly as Adlai Stevenson had no choice in 1952 but to embrace Harry Truman. It did not help Stevenson that the embrace was grudging; it may have hurt him.

THE QUESTION arises why, in a situation with such deeply political overtones, the President does not give greater weight to Nixon, the politician. Repeatedly Eisenhower has praised Nixon's capabilities and he has never questioned his techniques. Often the President has seemed to abdicate the role of leader of his party to the young Vice-President, who likes it and devotes tireless energy and skill to it.

The answer seems to be that the President looks upon the recession purely as a business problem and has turned to businessmen for the answers. Congress understands that the most effective single voice at the White House on this issue is that of former Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey.

THE PRESIDENT'S Council of Economic Advisers supports a tax cut. So does its former chairman, Arthur Burns, in whom the President once had great faith.

One politician determined to handle the recession issue with due regard for its cutting edge everywhere is Truman. He was sorely tempted to spar with some of his pet enemies on Capitol Hill, the conservative Republicans of the House Ways and Means Committee, but he resisted the temptation.

Instead he read a sober document, written with the help of what he called "my smartest friends," and he refused to stray far afield from it. He wanted the stories on his testimony to deal with his proposals, not his politics, and he arranged it that way.

No Quick Relief In Recession Remedies

WASHINGTON — (NEA)—It's beginning to dawn on Washington that the 3.6 billion dollars worth of recession remedies passed by Congress before its Easter recess aren't going to do much good this year. The recession may be well on its way to being over before they can take full effect.

The two principal items approved so far are the 1.8-billion-dollar emergency housing bill and the 1.8-billion-dollar supplementary highway construction program.

Big item in Alabama Senator Sparkman's new housing bill is a one-billion-dollar revolving fund for special assistance to housing costing under $13,500 per unit.

But Housing Administrator Albert M. Cole says that only about 300 million dollars of this money can be spent in the remainder of this fiscal year. He thinks a better estimate would be 200 million. "It's hard," he says somewhat ruefully, "to use money faster than that."

Of course, 300 million dollars or even 200 million is a lot of money. But this has been called a "ten-billion-dollar" recession. So this housing aid will relieve it only 2 or 3 per cent this year.

ACCELERATED highway construction legislation would provide 200 million dollars more for the interstate system and 400 million dollars more for state roads. This would be in addition to the 2.3 billion dollars already obligated for fiscal 1959.

As soon as the new money becomes available, Bureau of Public Roads will allocate it to the states. But it takes from 18 to 24 months to survey, design, get rights of way and let contracts for new highways. So it may be early 1960 before much of this money could get into circulation.

This delayed reaction means that the expanded housing and highway programs aren't primarily recession relief.

Some say a more accurate classification would pin the "pork barrel" label on them. The recession is merely being used as an excuse for additional spending in these fields.

This same criticism can be applied to nearly all other public works programs now being considered by Congress.

It would apply particularly to the 1.5 billion rivers and harbors authorization bill. This has been passed in different forms by both Senate and House and is now in conference. It is a political bill. It appropriates no money.

But it puts individual congressmen on record as supporting increased government spending in their states, even if President Eisenhower vetoes it, as he has done before.

ARKANSAS Senator Fulbright's bill to increase U. S. government loans to the states for anti-recession public works isn't a give-away program, but it would be slow-acting.

Originally proposed as a two-billion-dollar program, it was cut in half and a final Senate vote delayed just before Congress recessed. It must still clear the House.

The proposed two-billion-dollar program to build new post offices and renovate old ones is in the same kettle of fish. It would take three to five years to carry out.

Add all these big ideas together, however, and to the uninformed it may appear that the government is preparing to pour over eight billion dollars into the sagging economy.

But as new Budget Director Maurice H. Stans says, "Large public works programs are not the right answer for the country now . . . The normal pattern is for only 7 to 10 per cent of total cost to be spent in the first year."

IF THE government wants to get new money into circulation fast, it must go after something like extending and increasing unemployment insurance benefits payments.

There are several formulas for this now before Congress. They would cost from one-half to one-and-one-half billion dollars. Whatever compromise is worked out, this would provide quick help to the people who need it most.

It would also provide money for what President Eisenhower calls the greatest recession remedy—"to buy" — not what somebody wants to sell people, but what they need.

So They Say

America now outstrips the Communist world in only one ingredient of military power, technology combined with industrial power. Moscow knows what she must do to acquire preponderant power . . . overtake us industrially and neutralize our allies.
—Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D.-Wash.)

Everybody else waits around for the government to take care of them in their old age and here she ("little old lady about 60") is employing a real technical skill to take care of herself.
—S. J. Jelalian of Los Angeles, embraced and robbed by elderly pickpocket "looking for her long-lost son."

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK—You wake up early in the flooded, sodden country, take a dismayed look at rain, hardened with occasional spates of sleet, and go right back to bed, reinforced by a pot of coffee alongside you. After awhile you get up and go to New York, slipping and sloshing on the rivered parkways, finding the lone joy in the fact that few fools are out and the driving is easy and without trouble.

In town, you park and get to work and the telephone rings. It is Gene McKinney, from Waco, and you make arrangement to see him at Absinthe House at 3 p. m.

At that time, unable to find a cab and unwilling to drive in the thickening traffic with a slight skin of sleet under the tires, you walk from your office and arrive at the restaurant dripping as much rain as the skies are sending down.

Gene comes in, also soaked, and thanks you for your consideration in providing a Texan with such balmy, charming weather.

YOU SIT WITH the lanky playwright for almost two hours, hashing over a million things of moment to both of you and doubtfully of moment to many others, although they include photos of Gene's new baby and, doubtless, that infant does command interest both widespread and real.

Gene is on his way to Cornell, where they are putting on his play, "A Distant Drummer," and where he also has to speak for 40 minutes before a learned audience which has him somewhat abashed in advance.

NEAR 5 O'CLOCK you both run in the downpour to the corner, turn right and go up two torrented blocks to the stage door of the Winter Garden, where you pick up another Waco expatriate, Lo Harden. Lo is stage manager for "West Side Story," and still unable to flag a cab (New York women can sprint faster for a cab than can courtesy-hobbled Southern expatriates) you three get into the subway and ride down to Sheridan Square, off which Lo has his apartment.

They both extract from you the less than worthy confession that this is the first time you have been in a subway for eight years.

At Harden's place we all, to borrow from the late Benchley, get out of wet clothes and into dry martinis. At least Harden and this reporter do, but McKinney brews himself a pot of coffee.

THE TELEPHONE rings and a third Waconian calls, a Miss Cook, who is really from Abilene but who went to Baylor and has Waco as a second home. She will join all three at dinner at Fedora's.

There we meet her and she asks Harden and you if she should use pull and connections to get herself a summer singing job with "The Most Happy Fella," since she knows people who know the author-composer, Frank Loesser.

Harden says it would be the worst possible tactic, and she looks at you.

You say: "If Loesser wants you in the company, he'll hire you. If he doesn't and is bludgeoned into it, he not only will detest you but will never hire you again. Never use connections to get yourself a show job. Get it on merit. They'll hire you, without persuasion, if they think you are the best." She agrees that it makes sense.

YOU AND Harden pry yourselves away from dinner because he has to be at the Winter Garden at 7:45 sharp, and you have an 8 o'clock curtain at another show. You cab back up in the lessening rain and Harden agrees it is more desirable than the subway.

You go backstage at the theatre with Harden and run into Ruth Mitchell, now production manager for "West Side Story," and prattle with her for 18 minutes, suddenly realizing you are three minutes late for your show, three blocks away.

YOU PLOUGH through what is now a miserable drizzle, get there in time to collect some sense out of the first scene and relax to enjoy a show as you slowly dry off. During the intermission you see lovely Mary Orr, whose husband, Reggie Denham, is in Charleston, S. C., keeping watch on the Iron Swamp where an almost extinct and tiny warbler (it is estimated that less than 50 birds still exist in this group) is to be found in April.

Reggie, the bird-watcher, has roved the world studying birds that are being slowly extinguished.

You invite Miss Orr for a noggin of hydraulic warmth after the theatre but she is hard at work finishing a play and begs off.

GETTING OUT, you walk to the parking lot and try to move your car, only to find you have a disintegrated universal joint somewhere inside it and you see you have 11 minutes in which to make a train back to the country—you make it by sparse seconds and, once again, start to relax.

But a man comes by and says that although he is a Wall Street broker he is writing a play and is going to tell you all about it. He does: all about it for an hour.

You get back home and find a message: "Please come to my house after the theatre." It is from an actress who gives notable parties, and you have missed it by not checking at home for messages. As you undress for sleep, it starts to pour again.

Harry's Happy, Happy's Not

WASHINGTON — Let us pity today the Honorable Happy Chandler, Governor of Kentucky, who suffered the supreme tragedy of the politician: His audience walked out on him.

This wasn't exactly the Governor's fault. He sat all morning in the packed committee room, waiting his turn as the second witness before the House Banking Committee on how to lick the recession.

The first was a bouncy little man in a sharply-tailored, double-breasted black suit. In his breast pocket he wore a meticulously folded handkerchief and on his face a wide smile. He looked familiar for a fact.

MOST OF THE Congressmen rushed down from their dais to shake his hand; they lingered to have their pictures taken with him. Through all this Governor Happy sat, looking as happy as ever.

The first witness said he was danged if he knew why Congress should be interested in the views of a retired Missouri farmer, like himself, but that since he got an invitation, he was glad to come.

This caused Chairman Brent Spence to beam. He said he not only considered Harry Truman a personal friend, but a great President, and that he and the entire committee were flattered to have him. By now every seat was taken.

MR. TRUMAN read an 11-page statement in which he urged that Congress cut taxes about $5 billion for the poor and get it back from the rich. He also recommended the spending of $20 billion or so for public works, foreign aid, better housing, and more defense. "What the average American lacks," he said, "is not confidence, but income after taxes."

Each Congressman then got a five-minute crack at him; the Democrats were inclined to deliver eulogies over the especially live-looking citizen in front of them; some of the Republicans tried to argue with him about his cure for the recession. Mr. Truman silenced most of them with wisecracks.

CONSIDER Representative Walter M. Mumma who's in the contracting business at Harrisburg when he's not making laws. He said up his way there'd been so many floods and such heavy rains lately that putting a bulldozer to work was out of the question. So he dropped down to Florida last week, he said, and there saw the aftermath of the winter's repeated freezes.

"Nothing would help this recession more than about two weeks of nice, sunshiny weather," said Mumma. "In Harrisburg we don't need any more public works. We're already saturated with it."

"I don't think you can relax and let the weather take care of the recession," snapped Mr. Truman.

WHEN FINALLY he'd finished and been properly thanked for appearing, he walked out. The photographers rushed behind him. So did all but three of the reporters, who came from Kentucky. About half the Congressmen joined the procession, and by then nearly all the audience was trying to go out the narrow door.

Chairman Spence banged his gavel and banged it again, and by the time Governor Chandler was seated in front of the microphone he had for an audience a couple of hundred green leather chairs, only a few of which contained people.

HAPPY SAID he had some grim news about employment in Kentucky, but that his folks still felt the economy was fundamentally sound. I doubt if his talk reached many newspapers, except those in Kentucky. That's because a fellow can't be two places at once and the non-Kentucky press was out front on the steps holding an old-fashioned get-together with H.S.T.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — Science raises the possibility that a man can buy a ticket to the nearest star and come back maybe a boy.

This idea is based on the theory that the faster you go the younger you get. We have seen this tried many times and can't count any winners — although we recall a number who died smiling among their wrinkles.

The conception of time is a hard thing for any human to embrace. It makes him a prisoner of the calendar, the moon, the seasons, the years, the watch upon his wrist, his own suspicions or the estimate of others.

He feels—even though his years cannot accurately be measured by his falling hair—he still, like a tree, has his inevitable annual rings, made visible to others in ways he does not know.

Is he older than he feels? Is he younger than he knows? How to tell?

HERE IS A Baedecker of personal antiquity:

You're older if you pause before a flight of stairs, take a deep breath—then gallop up them a step at a time.

You're younger if you boldly wink at a pretty girl, and don't pretend to wipe a clinker out of your eye.

You're older if your wife has to gear your pride up to make you ask for a raise.

You're younger if you think raises come for merit and you feel proud to ask for one.

You're older if you forget to wear your rubbers in the rain.

You're younger if you wear a hat in the summer merely to be better dressed and hope that'll make a sale.

You're older if you see a beautiful girl and she reminds you of a girl you used to know.

YOU'RE YOUNGER if you see the same girl and feel your life won't be complete until you know her.

You're older if you think that over the hill lies the poor house.

You're younger if you think that every molehill is a fresh stepping stone to opportunity.

You're older if the boss puts his arm around your shoulder and you feel the loneliness in his fingers.

You're younger if you look at the moon and wonder who'll be first to land on it.

You're older if, while on a picnic, you see an ant and pause to watch it wrestle a crumb toward home.

You're younger if you press your thumb on the ant, then eat the crumb yourself.

You're older if all this stirs an echo in you.

You're younger if it doesn't.

Washington Scene

EDITOR'S NOTE: President Eisenhower signed the highway bill after Mr. Dixon wrote the column printed below. However, the importance of this bill to California as set forth by Mr. Dixon, is still pertinent.

WASHINGTON — Unofficial warnings that President Eisenhower is getting set to veto the highways and flood control bills have reached Republican leaders on Capitol Hill. The reports have caused terrific agitation in many GOP quarters—but nowhere more so than among supporters of Senator William F. Knowland for governor of California.

If Ike vetoes either, or both, of the measures, any California candidate who doesn't battle him over it is going to be imposed with a heavy political handicap.

California's Junior Senator, Thomas H. Kuchel, is almost certain to vote to override any highways or flood control vetoes. But the Knowland forces are not sure what their candidate will do. Knowland is long on conscience. His supporters are afraid he will conceive it his duty, as Senate minority leader, to uphold the commander-in-chief of his party.

Both measures are of tremendous importance to California. Out of the Highways Authorization, better than $600 million is slated to go to that state. The Flood Control Authorization calls for $100 million for California, with $28 million to be spent in heavy-voting Los Angeles county.

The Flood Control bill contains at least 30 projects for California, which are the result of out-and-out political logrolling. The Knowland people are afraid that if their man has to wrestle between conscience and political expediency, conscience will win.

DUTY, AS HE conceives it, comes first with the Minority Leader. But, no matter what the basic rights of the issues, or how they may affect the welfare of the country as a whole, the outcry against presidential vetoes will be so anguished in California that a Member of Congress who doesn't vote to override will share the denunciation, too.

Many of Senator Knowland's staunchest political friends are now knocking themselves out, trying to convince him that the wisest move he could make in his gubernatorial campaign would be to resign as minority leader. But they're butting head-on into duty.

The most devout hope of the Knowlandites is that the warning of impending presidential vetoes turns out to be just a ghastly unfounded rumor. They are optimistic that if their candidate isn't saddled with this White House impost he can pull a Silky Sullivan.

They are sure that, like the great racehorse, he will come from behind and pass the Democratic front-runner, Edmund "Pat" Brown, going away.

The Knowland rooters say their runner has already begun to do a Silky Sullivan. After a late start, he has begun to run in earnest. He's been getting great and enthusiastic turnouts, and is beginning to crowd Brown.

EVEN DEMOCRATS concede that Knowland has great strength among the California farmers. The Associated Farmers, the state's largest agricultural organization, goes so far as to predict he will get 95 per cent of the farm vote.

The plans and policies of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson will be little handicap to Knowland. California farmers, on the whole, do not feel unkindly toward Benson. Except in a few places, they haven't been too badly hurt. Some of the dairy people, and the rice farmers, are grumbling, but the diversified farmers are making out pretty nicely. They have more than 200 different kinds of crops to fall back upon, from avocados to zucchini.

Impartial observers out in California tell me that Pat Brown's attacks on Knowland are beginning to wear a bit thin. The Democratic candidate for governor is saying the same things over and over again, and a lot of his listeners are beginning to show symptoms of boredom.

Coal Firm's Stockholders Change Name

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Stockholders of Pittsburgh Consolidation Coal Co. voted at the annual meeting yesterday to change the name of the world's biggest soft-coal producer to Consolidation Coal Co.

The original name had been in effect since Nov. 1945 following the merger of Pittsburgh Coal Co. and Consolidation Coal Co.

Stockholders re-elected the present 14 directors. They also approved an amended employes' retirement plan for the parent company and all subsidiaries and amendments to the company's stock option plan.

Board chairman George H. Love explained that the name change was effected because the old name was "too cumbersome" and because the acquisition last year of Pocahontas Coal Co. in West Virginia considerably expanded the corporation's scope.

President A. J. Matthews said preliminary estimates show earnings of $3,200,000 for the first quarter this year. The firm reported 1957 first quarter earnings of $6,300,000.

He added that production is down 33 per cent, roughly 5,700,000 tons the first quarter of 1958 compared with 8,400,000 tons in the same period last year.

Matthews said that while earnings and production figures for the remainder of the year probably won't go too much higher, they won't be any worse.

He said the decline in earnings and production is attributable to poor metallurgical and export markets.

Local Lounge Appeals Fine

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The Cadillac Cocktail Lounge of Cumberland, yesterday asked the Court of Appeals to rescind a $500 fine for employing a minor in an orchestra.

The lounge owners claimed the first of the two-count indictment was not a crime under the Maryland law. The lounge was charged on the second count with permitting the minor to loiter about the establishment.

The owners said there was inconsistency in the charges that he was both an employe and loiterer.

The owners are Jane R. Molinari, John L. Farrin and William D. Trozzo. The minor is Harry W. Little, 19-year-old member of a musical trio.

The case was tried in Allegany County Circuit Court during the October term, and now has been appealed to the higher court.

County Plans Observance Of Centennial

Elaborate Events Taking Shape In McDowell County

By ROBERT E. MILLER

WELCH (AP) — McDowell County's 100th birthday celebration is shaping up to be one of the most elaborate events ever staged in southern West Virginia's coal fields.

Planners of the centennial, which will be held here during the week of May 11-17, have announced a series of events that should keep things in a "mardi gras" mood from start to finish.

The nightly dazzle of carnival lights, fireworks displays, and special entertainment will highlight the festivities.

The event will also have its serious side. The Centennial Corporation has announced the appearance of three prominent speakers.

Governor To Open Fete

Gov. Underwood will visit Welch Monday - the day the activities get into full swing. On Thursday night, William Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers, will speak; and on Friday, Joseph L. Moody, president of the Southern Coal Producers Assn., will talk. Television star Tennessee Ernie Ford also has accepted an invitation, but officials said he has not named the day he will appear.

What residents here regard as the climax of the celebration, however, is the staging of their professionally directed pageant, "Our Changing Hills." It will be given nightly in the high school football stadium.

Practice For Pageant

Preparation for the pageant began more than a month ago. It will include some 35 scenes depicting important events within the past 100 years. The entire cast is made up of McDowell countians.

The scenes begin with life in the Indian days and continue on through the "Sputnik Age." Included in the latter display will be a giant model satellite and a launching platform.

Other features of the celebration include the display of a huge navy rocket, the crowning of a centennial queen, and the presentation of prizes to the man with the best beard growth and the woman with the best centennial costume.

Brothers Of Brush

The beard-growing contest was launched several weeks ago with the formation of a club named the "Brothers of the Brush." Failure to comply with the no-shaving rules results in a five-dollar fine.

The women have agreed to wear no make-up and to wear colonial type clothes throughout the week. They organized into a group called the "Centennial Belles."

The county actually reached the century mark last Feb. 20, but centennial directors felt it better to wait for more suitable weather.

McDowell County was formed from Tazewell County, Va. when it broke with Virginia on the slavery issue. It was named for James McDowell, the 25th governor of Virginia.

Jobless Pay Drop Noted In Report

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The State Employment Service says it is too early to determine whether a trend toward rising employment is evident in a drop of 2,480 in new claims for unemployment compensation in the Pittsburgh labor market of Allegheny, Beaver, Washington and Westmoreland counties.

An employment service report shows new claims were 8,285 April 10 compared to 10,765 April 3. The report also says continued claims for jobless pay declined to 87,266 from 88,655.

Three To Attend Law Institute

Three local law enforcement officers will attend an institute on "Law Enforcement Officers Working With Juveniles" at the University of Maryland.

Attending will be Det. George Furstenberg and Mrs. Betty Williams of the Cumberland Police Department, and Tfc. Jack Browning of the Maryland State Police.

The institute opened yesterday and will continue through June 18. Classes will be held each Wednesday during this period.

The institute is being sponsored by the State Department of Public Welfare and the University of Maryland.

Secretary Appointed By State's Attorney

The appointment o. Mrs. Carol Fritz as a temporary secretary in his office, effective May 5, has been announced by State's Attorney James S. Getty.

The appointment was made by the county commissioners who complied with the request that Mrs. Irene Shipley be granted a year's leave of absence.

Armed Pair Steal $730 From Aged Man

MOUNDSVILLE (AP) — George Patock, 80, said that two well-dressed men who entered his home here yesterday took $730 that he had in his pocket to pay for the painting of his home.

Patock said both men were armed, and that they "could have killed me."

At its regular bi-weekly dinner meeting, April 22, the Cumberland Business and Professional Women's Club will honor Miss Orpha-Bonita Pritchard and Mrs. Ethel Northcraft. It will be held at Frostburg State Teachers College.

Miss Pritchard is a candidate for president of the Maryland Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, and Mrs. Northcraft is running for corresponding secretary of the state federation.

Past presidents of the Cumberland club will have charge of the program. They are Dr. Lillian C. Compton, Miss Anna Nicht, Miss Gerardine Pritchard, Miss Helen Beck and Mrs. Kathleen Burke.

At a business session after the dinner, a nominating committee will be elected and an auditing committee will be appointed by Mrs. Burke, president.

Also on the program will be Miss Kathleen Cumbee, Miss Hilda Williams, Miss Mary Jo Logsdon and group of the Fort Hill Players, who will present a scene from "Anastasia," directed by Miss Helen Smith.

Reservations for the dinner-meeting may be made with Miss Anna Durst, corresponding secretary.

The Ladies Auxiliary of Canton Allegany 4, IOOF will meet Saturday in IOOF hall.

Elks Plan For Intermission Feature At Saturday Dance

Featured during intermission of the regular Saturday night dance in the Rainbow Room of Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks, will be Gary Bucy and his "Hi-Five," a musical combo.

Clifton H. Hafer, chairman of the Social Sessions Committee, said dancing will begin at 9:30 with music provided by Peck Mills and his orchestra.

A party from the Elks Mixed Bowling League will attend following their annual dinner earlier at the club. Reservations are being accepted from Elks and their invited guests.

Philadelphia Trip Planned By Club

The LaSalle Mothers Club members and their friends are planning a pleasure trip to Philadelphia, Saturday, April 26, by bus.

The group will visit the Christian Brothers Orphanage at Eddington, where dinner will be served upon arrival. Another highlight planned is a visit to the brothers' Elkins Park Scholasticate, where young men are preparing to enter the society of the Christian Brothers.

Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Carl Soethe, PA 2-5185, not later than April 21 or any member of the club.

Personals

Mrs. Ethel Patton, 118 Bedford Street, has returned after spending after visiting with her son John E. Patton and family in Frederick, and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Stark and family, in Washington.

Mrs. Harry Baker, 9 Williams Street, Ridgeley, has returned from Baltimore where she spent the past five days with her son, Larry Baker, who is a surgical patient in Children's Hospital, Baltimore. She was accompanied home by Mr. Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert K. Baker who also visited Larry Baker and Mrs. Mary Granigan, in Baltimore.

A county-wide meeting of St. Patrick's Division 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, will be held April 20 at 7:30 p. m. in St. Patrick's rectory, North Centre Street.

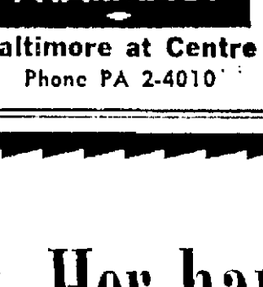
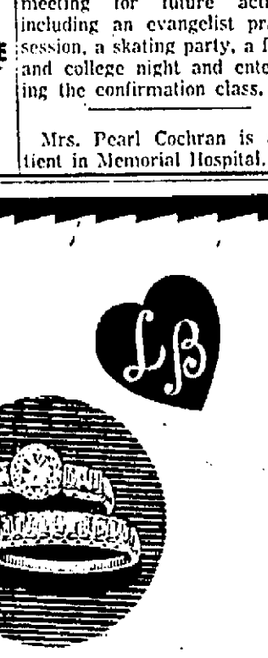
HER DIAMOND CAME FROM L. BERNSTEIN'S





Meg To Open West Indies Legislature

By WALLACE HULLETT

LONDON — (INS) — Princess Margaret returns to the scene of one of her greatest personal triumphs next weekend when she flies to Trinidad to inaugurate the federal legislature of the West Indies.

For it was in the romantic Calypso islands of the Caribbean in 1954 that Britain's loveliest "ambassador" made her first big solo tour and scored a terrific success.

Margaret will leave for Trinidad by plane at 8:30 a. m. Saturday. There will be a brief halt at Gander, Newfoundland, before flying on to Piarco Airport, Trinidad, where she is expected to arrive at 10 a. m. Sunday.

While the main purpose of Margaret's visit will be to inaugurate, as Queen Elizabeth's special representative, the federal legislature of the West Indies, she will also make another intensive 16-day tour of the islands.

The princess will be met by the new governor-general, Lord Hailes, and other West Indian political leaders.

Sir Grantly Adams, premier of Barbados, is the first prime minister of the federation as head of the Federal Labor Party which won 25 of the 45 seats in the elections held in March.

The royal chores may be nostalgic ones for Britain's most eligible princess. There has been a strange re-enactment of the events preceding her last visit to the romantic Caribbean.

Margaret's first tour was made shortly after her friendship with group-captain Peter Townsend, became public. The dashing Townsend was sent away as air attache to Belgium. The Caribbean tour for Margaret was seen as a move to help her forget the handsome fighter pilot.

Margaret, during the tour, displayed no outward sign of her real feelings. On her return to Britain early in January, 1955, Margaret showed that her feelings for Townsend had not altered. Throughout the summer there were persistent rumors that the princess would marry her handsome commoner. In October, Townsend arrived back in Britain from Belgium and promptly drove to Clarence House to have tea with the princess.

But the romance exploded in November when Margaret made her dramatic announcement that she had decided not to marry Townsend.

Last month, Townsend returned from a world tour on what he said was an attempt to "build a new life," and immediately had tea with Margaret and the queen mother.

Townsend stopped the rumors that the romance was "on" again by issuing a statement that nothing had been changed.

Townsend has since returned to Belgium and Margaret is once again preparing for the tour of the romantic islands.

LONELY VIGIL—A pet dog lies in lonely vigil beside the shoes of one of his masters, two small brothers who drowned in an excavation pool near Charlotte, N. C., yesterday. The dog's barking led to the discovery of the tragedy. The victims were Tommy Shepard, 9, and his brother, David, 7. A sister, Alice, 5, was revived. (AP Photofax)

Price Hike Seen For Real Estate

WHEELING (AP) — George M. Mullen of Ranson, president of the West Virginia Assn. of Realtors, predicted a sharp increase in real estate prices in an address here.

He also said that the country has in prospect the largest real estate boom it ever has seen by 1960.

Now is the time to buy real estate, recession or no, Mullen asserted, explaining that an increase in population highlighted by the coming of age of World War II youngsters would lead to major price boosts.

"Elf-Bolts"

English peasants once thought the prehistoric flint implements they occasionally found were weapons of the fairies, and called them "elf-bolts," according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

No Hearing Set On Contract Issue

BALTIMORE (AP) — A federal highway official says the Bureau of Public Roads has not promised a hearing for a Baltimore contractor whose low bid was rejected by the State Roads Commission.

George M. Williams, assistant commissioner in the federal bureau, said yesterday no such hearing is planned. He said he would write the contractor a letter giving the federal agency's views of the rejection of the bid.

He declined to say what these views would be.

Contractor Charles W. Williams said earlier that the bureau had promised him a hearing and full investigation of the rejection of his $2,390,343 bid for construction of four miles of the Baltimore, Harrisburg (Pa.) Expressway.

Commissioner Williams said he had only promised to "review" the case.

The SRC awarded the contract to C. J. Langenfelder and Sons of Baltimore, after its engineers reported that contractor Williams was not equipped to handle the project.

The contractor also appealed to Gov. McKeldin to conduct an investigation of the road commission's action, but McKeldin indicated he would refer the matter to the commission itself without intervention on his part.

Instant Minced Onion Very Convenient

Don't fuss with peeling and chopping a whole onion when just a touch of onion is needed.

Use convenient instant minced onion, available in foil packets or glass jars.

Cake Topping

For a delicious cake topping add crushed peanut brittle to sweeten whip cream.

HERE'S A Baking Day SECRET

It's the balance of ingredients in baking powder that governs its leavening action. Only when these are scientifically balanced can you be sure of uniform action in the mixing bowl plus that final, balanced rise to light and fluffy texture in the oven.

Balanced Double Action means Better Baking!

How Nutritious Are Your Meals?

ASPARAGUS HORS D'OEUVRE welcome spring and good health to your table.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Many American cooks are ingenious about using nutritious foods in delicious and inviting fashion.

We're thinking of the ways we have evolved of serving fruit and vegetable beverages as a first course; of our appetizer salads that appeal to both men and women; of our special ham-and-egg combinations; of our barbecued meats, poultry and fish; of our unique fruit desserts; of our refreshing flavored milk drinks.

It's unfortunate that more women do not take steady advantage of presenting basic foods in ways attractive enough to have families eat and relish them. We say this because studies made recently by the USDA's Institute of Human Nutrition and Home Economics indicate that many families are still not getting, in their everyday diets, the nutrients essential to good health.

During the war, providing balanced meals was emphasized and many families heeded advice from nutrition specialists. Nowadays it's a good idea to review the basic foods needed every day and to check up to make sure they are being included in meals. With all the dieting that is going on in this country, some of these foods are too often skipped. To provide high-quality protein we need meat, poultry, fish and eggs. Milk is a necessary food, and cheese and ice cream can help supply it. We need vegetables, including leafy green and yellow varieties, and potatoes; citrus as well as other fruits. Breads and cereals are still the staff of life.

It's fun to dream up new ways of serving nutritious foods. If your family eschews vegetables, for instance, there are many guises in which they may be offered so they will be welcome. We've seen them gobbled up when served as an hors d'oeuvre. Here's how to serve fresh asparagus in this fashion — though frankly we can't understand why anyone would want to bypass this utterly delightful spring and early-summer vegetable no matter how it is served.

Cut off tough ends of asparagus stalks. Remove fibrous outer covering with swivel-blade vegetable peeler. Wash asparagus well in cold water; cut into diagonal 1-inch lengths. Cook in a small amount of boiling salted water in a deep skillet just until tender-crisp; cover, but lift cover several times to help keep asparagus green. Drain. Serve warm with a cream-cheese dip made by mixing the cheese with lemon juice, milk, paprika, salt and white pepper. Provide toothpicks.

Pork-Vegetable Casserole

Many a wise homemaker plans her meat for two meals when she chooses a roasting cut. Sometimes she serves the roast cold for its second appearance; sometimes she heats slices of the cooked meat in a tangy sauce. Still another favorite is a casseroled version of the roast meat, such a this:

Pork And Vegetable Casserole

2 tablespoons lard or drippings
½ cup sliced celery
⅓ cup chopped onion
2 cups diced or ground cooked pork
1½ cup mixed cooked vegetables
White sauce or gravy
Salt, pepper
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
¾ cup buttered bread or cracker crumbs

Melt fat and in it cook celery and onions 5 minutes. Add meat and vegetables and enough white sauce or gravy to moisten well. Add Worcestershire sauce and salt and pepper to taste. Pour into a lightly greased 1½ quart casserole, top with butter crumbs and bake at 350° 30 minutes. Makes four servings.

Family Supper

Boiled Beef Brisket
Horseradish Sauce
Potatoes Carrots
Salad Bread Tray
Missouri Apple Pudding
Beverage

Missouri Apple Pudding

Ingredients: ⅓ cup sifted flour, 1¼ teaspoons double-acting baking powder, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 large egg, ¾ cup sugar, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1 cup finely diced pared tart apple (1 medium-size), ½ cup chopped (medium-fine) walnuts.

Method: Sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. Beat egg until thick and pale yellow; gradually beat in sugar until very thick and ivory colored. Beat in vanilla. Fold in sifted dry ingredients, then apple and walnuts. Turn into buttered 9-inch pie plate and bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven 35 minutes or until slightly brown on top and firm to touch. (There will be a thin meringue-like topping). Cool; cut into wedges while still warm and serve with whipped cream only slightly sweetened and flavored with vanilla. Pudding must be removed carefully with wide spatula from pie plate because it has a tendency to crumble. Makes 6 servings.

Prepare a cooked salad dressing in a heavy saucepan over low heat or in a double boiler over hot (not boiling) water. If you use high heat the milk in the dressing may be curdled by the vinegar and the egg yolk in it may get lumpy.

These warm-weather sandwiches may appear different ways: small or large, trimmed or with crusts, closed or open-face.

Sunday Dinner

Roast Lamb Oven Potatoes
Mint Sauce
Savory Green Beans
Salad Bowl Bread Tray
Lemon Pie Beverage

Savory Green Beans

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 medium-sized onion, 1 can (about 1 pound) French sliced Blue Lake green beans, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Method: Melt butter in 8-inch skillet over low heat; add onion. Cook slowly, stirring often, until wilted and golden. Meanwhile heat beans in a 1-quart saucepan rapidly; drain. Mix onions with beans. Makes 4 servings.

Fryers And Steaks Put On Best Buy Food List

By The Associated Press

Fryers and steaks look like the best bets for bargain-hunting house wives this week in the nation's supermarkets and neighborhood grocery stores.

Frying chickens are 4 to 6 cents a pound cheaper this week in widespread areas, although higher in some places. Department of Agriculture experts figure that consumption of chicken meat this year will average about 26 pounds per person, a slight gain over last year's 25.3 pounds. Chick replacements have been running about 10 per cent above last year, although future marketings are expected to return to a more normal relationship to placements.

Due To Get Cheaper

Steaks are featured even though beef prices in general are still comparatively high. The nation's most popular meat is expected to get cheaper in the next few weeks with the advent of warmer weather. In addition, marketings of fed cattle — which are favored for steaks — are expected to exceed last year's offerings during the spring.

Pork chops—down 14 to 18 cents a pound in a few sections—and veal chops, off 5 to 10 cents a pound, will be the No. 1 attraction in some stores. Veal chops are still fairly dear, however, with a going price of $1.05 a pound in one chain's stores in the New York metropolitan area.

Some housewives, possibly pinched by the recession, apparently are turning to baked beans as a main dish. Pea beans, a favorite for baking, are wholesaling for $9.60 a hundred pounds vs. $7.50 a year ago.

First Green Onions Arrive

The first green onions from eastern growing areas are starting to arrive, supplementing the big supply of Texas-grown onions. Celery and new cabbage are headed upward in price temporarily, due to rain in southern and western growing areas. Some of the vegetables which were hard hit by Florida freezes in the winter are in better supply now from post-freeze crops, but they're still at fairly high price levels. These include squash, beans, cucumbers and eggplant.

Apples from both western and eastern orchards are most prominent in vegetable displays, but produce men say prices and quality vary widely. Pineapples from Puerto Rico and Cuba are generally at attractive levels, and some Mexican cantaloupes are lower in price this week. More strawberries are coming to market from California, Florida, Louisiana and Texas. Produce men say they're still on the high side of a good buy.

Store French dressing in a cool dark place because oil tends to become rancid when exposed to light, warmth and air.

Rich Mushroom Stuffing

Deviled Stuffed Mushrooms

Ingredients: 1 pound medium-sized mushrooms, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 teaspoons lemon juice, 1 can (4½ ounces) deviled ham, ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs, 1 teaspoon dried crumbled (instant) onion.

Method: Wipe mushroom caps and stems with damp cloth; detach caps. Chop stems fine. Melt butter in 9-or 10-inch skillet; add caps, and cook quickly until lightly browned; remove caps. Add chopped stems to skillet and cook quickly, stirring. Stir in lemon juice, deviled ham, bread crumbs and onion. Pile stuffing into mushroom cap cavities. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven 15 to 20 minutes or until heated through. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Simple toppers for scrambled eggs: grated cheese, chopped pyarsley or snipped chives.

Grapefruit And Romaine Salad

Ingredients: 1 large grapefruit, 4 cups (lightly packed) bite-size torn pieces of romaine, ¼ cup minced parsley, herb French dressing, salt, freshly-ground pepper.

Method: Cut grapefruit in half; cut around sections so they are membrane-free; remove. Arrange romaine in a salad bowl; add grapefruit and parsley; cover tightly and refrigerate for several hours or all day so salad will be icy cold. At serving time toss with herb French dressing; add salt and freshly-ground pepper if needed. Makes 4 servings.

Note: Herb dressing may be made from olive oil, white wine vinegar, salt, pepper, tarragon or chervil with a slice of onion or a small garlic clove steeped in it.

4-Layer Cake Recipe Given

Make a fancy four-layer cake this easy way.

Bake packaged cake mix in two layers.

When cool, split layers and put together with creamy walnut filling made by blending instant coffee powder and finely chopped walnuts into stiffly beaten cream.

Spread the filling mixture between layers and on sides and top of cake.

The Wok---A Secret Of The Chinese

MRS. DOROTHY LEE, teacher of Chinese cooking, prepares pepper steak in a Wok — a round-bottom metal pan that fits over the burner of a gas range.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

With a pair of chopsticks, deft hands and a wok you can cook up some gorgeous Chinese food.

We know because every Thursday afternoon for the past month we've watched young attractive Dorothy Lee use these tools as she prepared superb dishes from China's classic cuisine. Mrs. Lee teaches food and nutrition, with the blessing of New York City's Board of Education, at China Institute in America.

The fascinating utensil called a wok in a shallow bowl-shaped metal cooking pan with a round bottom; it is cradled by a steel ring and is used on a top burner of a gas range. The combination of this particular pan and the intense heat produce the delightful bright color and crispness that distinguish so many Chinese dishes. Some food, such as whole fish, are steamed and served with wok-cooked sauces.

Next to the dexterity and rapidity with which Mrs. Lee cooks, we admire the skill and speed with which she uses a sharp cleaver to slice, mince, chop and shred meat, poultry, fish, vegetables and fruit.

Here's one of Mrs. Lee's recipes that may be made with or without a wok; we've prepared it several times in a 10-inch iron skillet. But if you are intrigued by Chinese dishes and want to include a good many in your repertoire, you'll find woks and steel rings as well as cleavers endlessly useful. They're available in shops in Chinese sections of cities and may also be ordered by mail.

Chinese Pepper Steak

Ingredients: 1 pound fish steak (trimmed of fat and partially frozen), 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 pound medium-sized green peppers, 3 tablespoons peanut oil, 1 slice (the size of a quarter) fresh ginger (minced), 1 large clove garlic (minced), 1 bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water.

Method: Slice steak across the grain so pieces are between 1/16 and ⅛ inch thick and 3 to 4 inches long; if sharp wide knife is held almost flat during slicing, pieces will be about 1 inch wide. Stir cornstarch, soy sauce, salt and sugar together until smooth; toss with beef slices. Wash peppers; cut into halves; remove seeds and white membranes; dry. Slice each half into 4 diagonal pieces. Add tablespoon of the peanut oil and the peppers to a wok or 10-inch heavy skillet; toss constantly and cook about 1 minute over a high flame. (In using skillet, be careful not to have heat so high that peppers blister.) Remove peppers with chopsticks or slotted spoon, leaving oil. Add remaining 2 tablespoons oil to wok or skillet and heat (375 degrees on automaite top burner heat control); add beef; sprinkle with ginger and garlic. Brown rapidly on one side before tossing with chopsticks in wok or turning with spatula in skillet; thorough cooking helps prevent coating from sticking to pan. When beef loses its red color, add green peppers and bouillon. Bring to a boil rapidly; cook and stir over high heat until sauce thickens and looks slightly shiny. (This may take 3 or 4 minutes in skillet). Peppers should be emerald-green and crisp if possible; do not overcook. Serve at once with steamed rice. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Currants and Pine Nuts
Green Peas Rolls
Lemon Tart Beverage

Sauteed Chicken Breast

Ingredients: 1 large chicken breast (about 1 pound), 2 tablespoons butter, water, salt, pepper.

Method: Cut chicken breast in half with kitchen shears; cut off any ragged skin. If part of wings are attached, cut off. Heat a 9-inch iron skillet until very hot; add butter. Place chicken breasts, skin side down, and any wing parts in hot melted butter. Brown moderately slowly on both sides. Add 2 tablespoons of water to skillet; cover and cook slowly until tender,— 20 to 30 minutes. Turn as necessary, adding 2 tablespoons of water about middle of cooking time. Sprinkle chicken with salt and pepper; remove to serving plates. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons of water to skillet; stir with wooden spoon, over low heat, to get up drippings. Bring to a boil if necessary; pour this small amount of sauce over chicken. Makes 2 servings.

Chocolate-Cream Lady Fingers

Elegant to serve, easy to make, these chocolate-peppermint cream fingers.

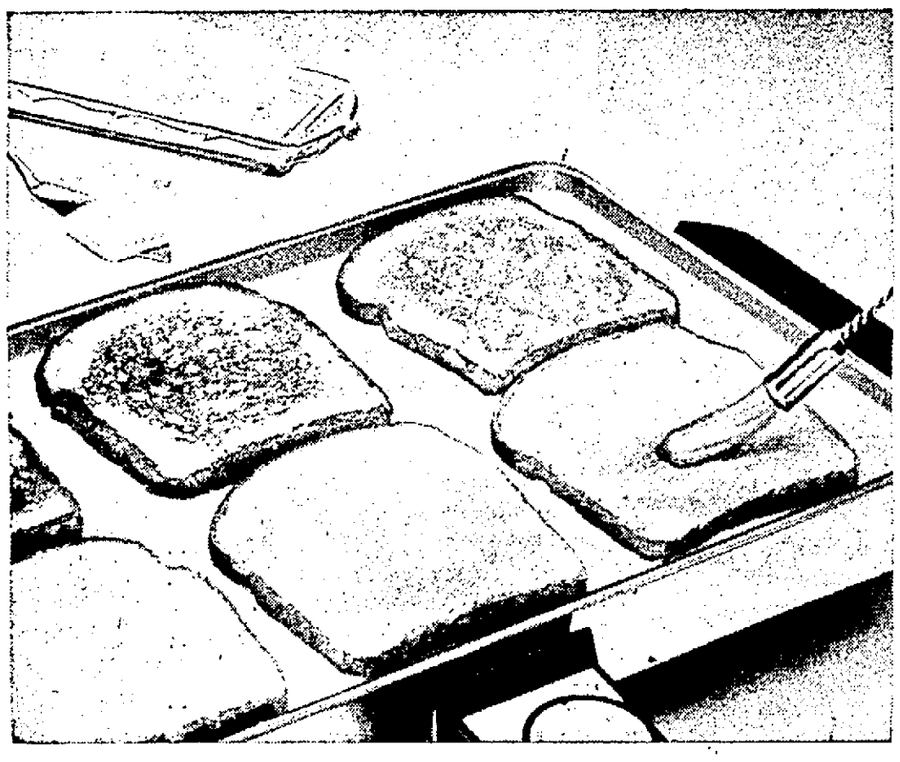
Split ladyfingers in half, arrange on bottom and sides of an oiled (1-quart) loaf pan. Over the fingers, pour a cream filling, made by folding pieces of milk chocolate and crushed peppermint candy into whipped cream, flavored with vanilla.

More halves of ladyfingers can be placed over top of filling.

Refrigerate several hours. Turn chilled loaf onto a pretty platter when ready to serve.

Ever add a little chili powder to a cocktail sauce for seafood?

Bread 'n Butter idea you'll love with Land O'Lake's sweet cream Butter



MAKE FRENCH CRISPS as golden to the taste as they are to the eye. Mix ¼ cup Land O'Lakes Sweet Cream Butter, ¼ cup Log Cabin Syrup. Brush mixture on 6 slices of bread, both sides. Brown on griddle, 3 minutes each side. Serve with pat of Land O'Lakes Butter on each slice. Mm-m-m!

VITAL INGREDIENT Land O'Lakes Butter is made only from sweet cream, nothing but sweet cream, a full ½ gallon to every single pound. Ask for it by name —it's the vital ingredient!

Black Walnut Bars

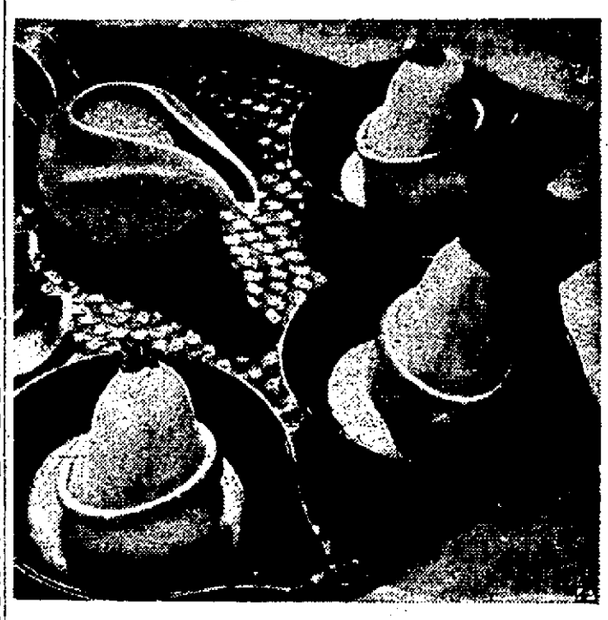
Ingredients: ¼ pound (½ cup) butter or margarine, ½ cup firmly-packed dark brown sugar, ½ cup granulated sugar, 2 eggs, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup sifted flour, ½ cup very finely chopped black walnuts.

Method: Cream butter and sugars. Add eggs and vanilla; beat only until smooth. Add flour; beat with spoon until combined. Mix in walnuts. Turn into a buttered baking pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); use spatula to flatten evenly. Bake in moderate (350 degrees oven 30 minutes or until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean. Cool; cut into bars with sharp knife and remove with spatula. Store, when cold, in tightly covered container with waxed paper between layers. Note: No baking powder or salt are called for in this recipe. The nuts must be finely chopped or put through a rotary-type grater to be distributed evenly through the batter.

Dress Up Those Canned Pears



CANNED PEAR HALVES can be amusingly paired with orange-rind rings and served with a foamy sauce.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Canned pears are often a good buy these days and, accompanied by a foamy sauce, take on new interest. We particularly enjoy the pears heated, but some of our testers like them best chilled. Both ways of serving are given in the following recipe.

PEARS WITH FOAMY SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 can (1 pound and 13 ounces) Bartlett pears, juice of 1 large orange, ¼ cup apricot preserves, 1 egg, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Method: Drain pears. Measure 1 cup pear syrup into a medium-sized saucepan; simmer 2 minutes. Add orange juice and apricot preserves; stir and simmer until very hot. Beat egg in medium-sized deep bowl until thick and pale colored. Beating constantly, slowly pour hot syrup mixture over egg. Return to saucepan over low heat; cook and stir constantly for 2 minutes. Remove from heat; stir in vanilla. To serve dessert hot, put drained pear halves in a 10-inch skillet; sprinkle with lemon rind and lemon juice. Cover and place over very low heat until hot through. Serve heated pears with hot foamy sauce. To serve dessert cold, chill drained pears and foamy sauce in separate containers. At serving time, sprinkle pear halves with lemon rind and lemon juice; beat sauce to make foamy again and serve with pears. Makes 4 to 8 servings, depending on whether 1 or 2 pear halves are used for each portion.

Note: To prepare 4 large garnished portions of the dessert, slice 4 rings — each about ¼-inch wide — from the orange rind halves left after squeezing juice for sauce. With a sharp knife, cut away any straggly orange membrane on inside of each ring. Place a large soft table fig (or another small fruit) in cavity of a pear halve and place another pear halve over so cut surfaces meet. Stand up and slip an orange ring over top to hold stuffed pear halves together. Garnish with a fresh mint sprig or maraschino cherry. Arrange other 6 pears the same way. Serve with foamy sauce.

Quick breads may be frozen either before or after baking, but the latter process is preferable.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY — What on earth is wrong with you? How can you advise people to start raising a family when they are in their forties? You said that "Nature should determine when children should stop being born." Don't you know that some men are capable of having children when they are seventy-five and some women can have them when they are sixty. How would you like to be born to a father of seventy-five and a mother of sixty?

STRAIGHT THINKER

DEAR STRAIGHT: It would be all right with me. My only regret would be that I probably wouldn't have any living grandparents.

DEAR ABBY: I have a husband who has a very crazy sense of humor. When we moved into this flat he went and told all the neighbors that we weren't married — we were just living together. Abby, we have kids running around all over the place. I am so embarrassed because I sometimes think people don't know he is joking and they don't care to make our acquaintance. Please print this so he will take the hint. Are there other men who make jokes like this or am I all alone?

NOT LAUGHING

DEAR NOT: If your husband knows you don't think this "joke" funny, he is being very inconsiderate. Have your marriage license reproduced (at his expense) and paper the living room wall with it.

DEAR ABBY: Here is a clever trick for the girl who loves to dance but can't keep the men from dancing so close she would like to slap their faces. Place one of her hands on his collar bone and by a very slight leverage she can make him keep his distance. If she smiles while pushing him, he won't suspect a thing.

TRICKY

DEAR TRICKY: You could also take a course in judo and you'd NEVER have to worry about a thing.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and go roller skating every Saturday night. There is an older boy who is always skating there and he doesn't take his eyes off me. He makes me nervous. I don't care for his looks or his language. He is always asking me to skate with him. Can you think of a gracious way to say "get lost" without hurting his feelings?

TOO GOOD

DEAR TOO: What's wrong with a plain oldfashioned, "No thank you"?

CONFIDENTIAL to worried sick: No one in this country has to walk around with a sore that refuses to heal for two years. This could be very serious. Go to your local COUNTY MEDICAL SERVICE at once. They will see you—money or no money.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Skillet Shrimp

Ingredients: 1 pound medium-sized or large shrimp, 2 cups water, 1 ½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon peppercorns, ¼ teaspoon whole allspice, leafy tops of 1 or 2 ribs of celery, 1 small carrot (sliced), 1 bay leaf, 4 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 clove garlic (crushed).

Method: Wash shrimp in cold water; drain. Put water in a medium-sized saucepan with salt, peppercorns, allspice, celery tops, sliced carrot and bay leaf; bring slowly to a boil. Add shrimp; bring to simmering, cover and simmer (do not boil) 3 to 5 minutes, depending on size of shrimp. Shrimp flesh will be opaque when cooked through. Allow shrimp to stand in liquid until cool. Drain, shell, devein and slice in half lengthwise. Heat butter and crushed garlic in 10-inch skillet until butter melts and is very hot. Add shrimp and toss over moderate heat a few minutes or until hot through. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Police Probing Ring Victimizing Filmland Women

HOLLYWOOD — (INS) — Investigators were probing the activities of slain Johnny Stompanato's friends and associates today to try to determine whether there was an organized ring for victimizing women in Hollywood and Beverly Hills.

The hunt for such a possible ring was touched off by promissory notes and other papers found among Stompanato's effects which were discovered, stored, in a Beverly Hills warehouse last Monday.

Beverly Hills Chief of Police Clinton H. Anderson said the dead gigolo's background became steadily more distasteful as a study of the papers continued.

He said there was evidence that several women lost money to Stompanato through "loans" which were never repaid.

Stalinist Rakosi Faces Execution

LONDON—(INS)—The London Daily Mail reported today that Hungary's downfallen old Stalinist Matyas Rakosi is in jail in Moscow and may be executed.

In a Vienna dispatch quoting very reliable information from Russia, the Mail said it was unclear whether Rakosi was to be given a trial but that the Soviets were expected to turn him over to the Hungarian government.

In a speech in Budapest last week, Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev declared that Rakosi "was guilty of what happened in Hungary."

Opera Star Dies In Nursing Home

DUBLIN — (INS) — Margaret Burke Sheridan, Irish primadonna and former coach of the Metropolitan Opera Company, died in a Dublin nursing home early today. She was 62.

The singer made her debut in La Boheme at Covent Garden in 1919. She was prima donna of the La Scala and a member of the Italian Royal Opera Company.

The former opera star was born in County Mayo and studied singing in Rome.

Freedom Of Info Action Due Soon

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.) said today he "hopes and expects" action by the Senate this session to approve a "freedom of information" bill passed overwhelmingly by the House.

Hennings, whose subcommittee concluded hearings on the measure about the same time the House was voting yesterday, said he saw no reason why the Senate should not add its approval.

The bill, designed to curb government secrecy, amends the so-called "housekeeping statute" to specify that it cannot be used to suppress information.

YOU CAN'T SEE THE FOREST FOR THE LACK OF TREES!

Stumpland, U.S.A.—Ingredients: you start with a beautiful stand of timber filled with wildlife, clear streams, and campgrounds. Then add people. Only one thing else is needed to create Stumpland: carelessness.

You cannot argue with the facts: 9 out of 10 forest fires are man-caused. These fires result from simple thoughtless acts . . . a flipped cigarette, an abandoned campfire, an unguarded trash fire.

America has enough Stumplands already. Don't you create more: Be careful with all fire this year.

"Harmony" Ticket Rally Here Tonight

Affair At Eagles Open To Public; In Garrett Friday

A big political rally and "clambake" complete with refreshments, will feature the Democratic Party's 'harmony' ticket visit to Cumberland and Allegany County today.

The entourage of Comptroller J. Millard Tawes, for Governor, Baltimore Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro for U. S. Senate, Attorney General C. Ferdinand Sybert for re-election and State Sen. Louis Goldstein for comptroller, arrived in Cumberland at noon today from Washington County.

The ticket opened its Western Maryland tour with stops in Boonsboro yesterday and moved westward.

At Eagles Home

The big rally will be staged in Cumberland today at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Cumberland Aerie 245, Fraternal Order of Eagles, and the public is invited. Simon F. Reilly, Allegany County harmony ticket chairman, emphasized today.

After being guests of the Cumberland Kiwanis Club at noon today, the group visited Eckhart, Zihlman, Mt. Savage, Corriganville and Ellerslie.

Tomorrow the candidates will be on tour in Garrett County beginning at 9 a. m. in Grantsville Dr. I. E. Baumgartner, Oakland, Garrett County chairman, for the ticket, said the day's shoeleather campaign will be climaxed by a rally tomorrow night in Oakland's William James Hotel.

In Creek Area Saturday

Saturday the candidates will work Frostburg and the Georges Creek towns, ending at Barton where they will be guests at the annual smoker of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association.

George P. Mahoney, campaigning for the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate, predicted victory for himself while touring Calvert County. He ticked off the counties he said he would carry, including most of those on the Eastern Shore, Southern Maryland and the western part of the state. In addition, he listed four districts of Baltimore City.

At a dinner meeting, Mahoney told those present that farm subsidies are of no help to the small farmer because "they are aimed at Wall Street farmers."

Civil Docket Cases Start In Area Court

Verdict Reached In Damage Suit; Another Inactive

The civil docket of the April term of Allegany County Circuit Court got underway today with 1955 auto damage suit involving cross claims.

Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris ruled in favor of William Charles Walters in the amount of $216.83 in his suit with Leo V. Elbon.

Two suits were consolidated, one filed by Walters in Trial Magistrates Court against Elbon, and the other filed by Elbon against Walters in Circuit Court.

Wrecked In Storm

The hearing resulted from the wreck of the cars driven by the two men on Route 220 at Danville on November 10, 1955, during a snow storm.

Gorman E. Getty represented Walters and William S. Geppert and Earl E. Manges for Elbon.

Scheduled for trial but marked stet in the docket was the case of the Mayor and City Council against Edgar Thomas Hardin Jr., who now is a resident of Milwaukee.

He had been sentenced to 30 days in jail on a chronic alcoholic charge, but he appealed the case. However, Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, said he was unable to be here and the case was marked stet, which means it is inactive, but can be reopened at any time.

Verdict For Defendant

In another case, through agreement of counsel, Judge Harris ordered a verdict in the case of John Collins vs. W. S. Bartlett in favor of the defendant.

Edwin Horchler, attorney for the plaintiff, informed the court he had made repeated attempts to contact his client, but was unable to do so.

Scheduled for trial today were the cases of Jacob V. Wilson, vs. Lacy L. Tinsley; Lulu Miller vs. Prudential Insurance Company, Horace M. Shuff vs. Livingstone Machine and Tool Company.

Rabbi, Educator To Be Speaker At B'er Chayim

Rabbi Ephraim Fischoff, director of the B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation at Yale University, will address the B'er Chayim Congregation at services tomorrow at 8 p. m. and Saturday at 10 a. m., according to Max Spear, president of the congregation.

A graduate of Hebrew Union College and the Jewish Institute of Religion, Rabbi Fischoff holds a doctorate degree in sociology from the New School for Social Research.

Besides his work in the ministry, Rabbi Fischoff has also taught religious education at the College of the City of New York, Hunter College, Pennsylvania State University, American International College, New School for Social Research and the Jewish Teachers Seminary.

Walsh Gets Vote Support Of Trainmen

Backing For Other Candidates Given By Railroad Group

The legislative committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in this area has endorsed a number of candidates who are seeking nomination to the State Senate and House of Delegates from Allegany County.

Edwin C. Hoffman, city, who is chairman of the brotherhood legislative committee for Maryland, said the organization has endorsed the incumbent state senator Charles M. See and incumbent delegates from the county, with the exception of David Williams, of Midland.

Others Get Backing

In addition to these endorsements, the brotherhood has decided to recommend Estel C. Kelley, a former delegate who is seeking the Republican nomination to the House, and C. William H. Baer, who also is a former delegate. Baer is a Republican candidate and is a member of the brotherhood, Hoffman said.

The brotherhood has also endorsed the candidacy of William Walsh, city, who is seeking nomination on the Democratic ticket for the House of Delegates.

Hoffman said the brotherhood feels that Walsh is "capable and if elected would not only do a good job as far as the brotherhood is concerned but also for the general public." The brotherhood official said that Walsh is the grandson of the late James See, who was general chairman of the brotherhood at the time he was employed in Cumberland by the B&O Railroad Company. This background was cited by Hoffman as an additional reason for the support of the organization for Walsh.

Harmony Support

In connection with the endorsement of State Senator Charles M. See, the brotherhood official said the organization had "nothing against George R. Hughes Jr., who is opposing See in the primary on the Republican ticket, but it is the custom to endorse the incumbent when there is no reason for being opposed to their candidacy as far as their record is concerned."

The brotherhood has a policy of not entering into the candidacies of persons seeking county office, Hoffman said.

On a statewide basis, the brotherhood has endorsed the Democratic harmony ticket of J. Millard Tawes for governor, Thomas D'Alesandro for U. S. Senate, Ferdinand Sybert for attorney general and Louis Goldstein for comptroller.

Mt. Savage Firm Extends Bus Service

PSC Approves New Spur Operation On State Route 35

The Mt. Savage Bus Lines Company has received permission from the Maryland Public Service Commission to conduct a spur operation from the intersection of State Route 35 and 36 to Ellerslie via Route 35.

The spur operation, according to John Cassen, secretary of the Mt. Savage firm, will thus assume the Maryland portion of the Albright Bus Line business which will cease its operations on April 30.

The Mt. Savage company has been performing bus service from that community to Cumberland and the Amcelle plant of the Celanese Corporation for a number of years, Cassen said, adding that the firm has worked in close conjunction with the one operated by C. O. Albright from Hyndman to Cumberland and the Amcelle plant.

The spur operation will extend the lines operations from Ellerslie to Cumberland and the Celanese plant, and thus offer the residents of that area transportation to their places of employment, Cassen explained.

The new operation will operate as closely as possible to the schedule now in effect, it was explained, Cassen adding that a time and rate schedule will be posted and available on Monday.

The firms secretary said there will be a slight change in the present fare to Ellerslie so that the tariff will conform with the fare to Mt. Savage. The new schedule will also result in a transfer for Celanese employes on the early morning runs to the Amcelle plant. Cassen explaining that workers from Ellerslie will transfer at Corriganville to another of the firms buses in order that the run can be made direct to the plant.

No change is contemplated in the present fare to Mt. Savage, Cassen said.

SRC Seeking Bids On Phase Of Thruway

The Cumberland Thruway moves into another phase as the State Roads Commission plans to advertise for subsurface exploration of the west end of the project from Lynn Street on West Side to Winchester Road.

G. Bates Chaires, district 6, engineer for the SRC, said today bids will be received at the SRC office in Baltimore on May 6 and opened at noon.

The project calls for subsurface exploration of rock formations, including core drillings at 11 locations along the proposed west extension of the thruway.

Lynn Street is located in the area of Rose Hill Addition. The thruway's route takes it along the hill above the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company plant over Ridgedale Addition then across a bridge over Route 220 and then over Haystack Mountain to Winchester Road.

Chaires noted that Green Associates, Baltimore engineering firm, has progressed to a point where a location of the highway has been determined.

Subsurface exploration of the terrain is necessary for contracters' bidding purposes.

The east end of the thruway was covered in a similar project last year.

Work has started on the southern or industrial boulevard section of the thruway in South End.

Washington County Unit Head Blasts Teacher Move

HAGERSTOWN—(AP)—The president of the Washington County commissioners lashed out at an official of a teachers' group today for asking political candidates to take a stand on new pay increases for teachers.

Chester F. Delphey, commission chief, called a questionnaire distributed by the Maryland State Teachers Assn. an example of "unfair acts of pressure during a political campaign."

A spokesman for the association had called it "a service to the community."

Follows McKeldin

Delphey's criticism came on the heels of a similar blast yesterday by Gov. McKeldin in a speech to the Advertising Club of Baltimore.

The questionnaire, sent to more than 300 legislative aspirants in the May 20 primary, asks them to state whether they are for or against another $400 State-guaranteed increase in teachers' pay. The Legislature enacted a similar raise last winter.

The candidates also were asked to take a stand on whether the average classroom size should be reduced from about 33 to 30 pupils, the Board of Education's building proposals should be accepted in their entirety by the Legislature, and teachers college faculties should be paid the same as faculties at other state-supported institutions of higher learning.

Suggests County Check

Raver said Tuesday he had suggested that county branches of MSTA put the same questions to candidates for county commissioner.

"If these pressure organizations continue these tactics," said Delphey, "it is going to be very hard to obtain qualified candidates for the job."

The commission president said it was unreasonable to expect a candidate to take a stand on such issues at this time because "unpredictable economic conditions" make it too difficult to determine whether such increases can be supported later. "If they refuse to support him (a candidate who refuses to favor teachers pay increases now)," said Delphey, "they may be defeating a commendable candidate in favor of one of rubber-stamp caliber."

SRC Readies Picnic Sites On Highways

The Maryland State Roads Commission is preparing its numerous roadside areas throughout the state in preparation for the coming tourist season.

The SRC, which builds and maintains them, estimates that more than a half-million persons annually make use of the roadside facilities. They are located in every county in the state.

The picnic areas vary in size, but each is equipped with tables, benches, trash cans and off-road parking spaces. There are also 17 sites where ponds and streams are available for fishing. Most of them also have fireplaces for the convenience of picnickers.

New officers will be installed during the meeting. They are Burr James, president; Harold Hershberger, vice president; Emory Turner, secretary; and Oliver Hansel, treasurer.

Man Sentenced To 30-Day Term

A 61-year-old local man was sentenced to 30 days in the Allegany County Jail and fined $200 and costs on three motor vehicle violations this morning in Trial Magistrate Court.

Trial Magistrate Morris Baron sentenced the man, Tolbert Leasure, of 308 Beall Street, after finding him guilty of three offenses including striking an unattended vehicle.

Leasure was apprehended by Officer Clarence Valentine after he struck a parked car at 508 Greene Street, owned by Mrs. Hazel Gates.

Officer Valentine testified that Leasure was traveling toward downtown Cumberland when the mishap occurred. The impact of the collision pushed the Gates car about a car length up on the sidewalk, causing approximately $450 damage to the vehicles.

Magistrate Baron fined Leasure $25 for reckless driving, $25 for striking the unattended vehicle and $150 and a 30-day jail sentence for operating a motor vehicle while under the influence of liquor. The judge pointed out that it was Leasure's second offense for operating under the influence.

Brothers Get Accident Verdict

A Garrett County Circuit Court jury yesterday returned a $7,400 verdict in favor of Oldtown Road brothers injured in a Route 50 wreck in Virginia.

Plaintiffs in the damage suit were Robert Klink, operator of Bob's Esso, Oldtown Road, and his brother, Harold Klink, an employe.

The defendant was Sgt. Charles W. Speicher of Deer Park who was stationed at Bolling Field at the time of the accident March 25, 1957.

The accident occurred on Route 50 between Fairfax and Winchester. The brothers were hospitalized.

Thomas B. Finan, this city, and Walter W. Dawson, Oakland, represented the Klink brothers, and W. Earle Cobey, this city, and Lewis Jones Jr. were attorneys for the defendant.

Damage Suit Filed Here

Suit for $1,000 damages was filed today in Circuit Court by Harold E. Reid, Pershing Drive, city, by the National Trailer Convoy, Inc., of Tulsa, Okla.

The action was docketed for Reid by Attorney William L. Wilson. The declaration states that Reid arranged for the Tulsa firm to move his house trailer from Delaware Valley Trailer Court, Morrisville, Pa., to the Potomac Valley Trailer Court here.

During the trip a wheel came off the house trailer and caused damage to the frame and undercarriage, the declaration claims. It was charged the Tulsa firm failed to inspect the wheel studs of the house trailer and was negligent in not doing so.

Couple Given Permit To Construct Home

Homer and Catherine Deneen, 5 Race Street, have been granted a permit by the city engineer's office for the construction of a one-story residence on Gleason Street.

The home will have a concrete block foundation and sides of cedar shingles. It will measure 38 by 36 feet and the estimated cost of construction is $7,500.

Man Fined On Liquor Count

George Buskirk, of 233 Glenn Street, was fined $100 and court costs this morning in Trial Magistrate Court for possessing untaxed liquor.

Buskirk was apprehended several months ago following a motor vehicle violation on North Centre Street by Officer Ernest Powell and Det. George Furstenberg.

The charge of possessing untaxed liquor was placed against the man by an agent for the Maryland Alcoholic Tax Division.

Magistrate Morris Baron presided.

Local Man, Youth Given Sentences

Everett E. Goss, 47, of 136 Mary Street, and a 17-year-old local youth received sentences yesterday afternoon in Juvenile Court.

Juvenile Magistrate Fred H. Anderson sentenced Goss to 60 days in the Allegany County Jail and the youth to the Maryland Training School for Boys.

Goss was also ordered to make restitution of $30 to Athey's Service Station on Laing Avenue. The man and two youth admitted taking the money from the station.

Magistrate Anderson withhheld sentence on the second youth. Lt. Det. James E. Van testified that Goss kept $24 and gave each youth $3.

The Men of LaSalle will meet today at 8 p. m. in Carroll Hall.

Final arrangements for the organization's annual communion breakfast will be made. The affair will be held Sunday following the 8:30 a. m. mass in St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

Arrangements for the club's election of officers will also be discussed.

EASTER SEAL LUCKY BUCKS NEEDED NOW

Nearly 100 more Lucky Bucks poured into the coffers of the Easter Seal fund today to bring the total for crippled and handicapped children to $9,083.

Slowly the amount is nearing the $12,000-mark sought by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The spring drive started with 22,000 letters containing Easter Seals being mailed to residents of this section.

If you are one of those who hasn't had the time to put a dollar in an envelop, mail one now to the League for Crippled Children.

Woman Says Accused Man Assisted Her

Alleged Kidnaper Offered Protection From Companion

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—Russell Wayne Carpenter, on trial for kidnaping and auto thefts stemming from a double slaying in a Washington tavern, was pictured as something of a hero today.

Miss Doris Mattingly, 19, told a federal court jury yesterday the 22-year-old Carpenter protected her from a kill-crazy companion during a harrowing abduction last Dec. 27.

At one point during a wild ride south through Virginia, Miss Mattingly said, Henry Clay Overton attempted to shoot an innocent man with a sawed-off shotgun to demonstrate the lethal effect of the weapon.

She said Carpenter seized Overton's arm and prevented him from firing the gun.

At other times during the trip, she said, Carpenter kept Overton from molesting her, and finally freed her near Richmond when Overton fell asleep.

Overton, 44, was killed shortly afterward in a headon automobile collision in Georgia which also took the life of the other motorist.

The death toll in the tavern shooting eventually rose to three. A blind pianist wounded during the melee died later.

Carpenter still faces murder and assault charges in Washington.

Overton and Carpenter were the object of a farflung police search following the slayings in Washington and subsequent kidnapings and car thefts.

Carpenter was captured in Florida, where he surrendered without resistance. He told police he had separated from Overton earlier.

Carpenter's attorneys contend he did not participate willingly in the crimes but was coerced by Overton.

Miss Mattingly said Overton "kept telling us he was a killer."

"I've just killed three people and one or ten more won't make any difference," she quoted him as saying.

B&O New York Service Ends

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, the nation's oldest, is discontinuing its Baltimore to New York passenger service with the change to Daylight Saving Time April 27.

The six trains daily in each direction will make their last runs Saturday night, April 26. New Jersey gave its approval yesterday and Maryland, Delaware and Pennsylvania had consented earlier.

The B & O has been running the trains for 72 years. The railroad said the trains became too much of a financial burden because patronage dropped 46 per cent since 1946.

Auto Injuries Prove Fatal

BALTIMORE (AP) — Leon Melvin Lee, 21, died in Maryland General Hospital today of injuries suffered in an automobile smashup last night near Havre de Grace. He was the second person to die as a result of the accident.

Another occupant of car, Airman John E. Stansbury, 19, of Westover (Mass.) Air Force Base, was killed when the vehicle went out of control, crashed into two trees and overturned on Maryland 155 near Havre de Grace.

Lee, a resident of Havre de Grace, suffered second and third degree burns and a shoulder injury.

A third occupant, 17-year-old Sandra Cromwell of Havre de Grace, was reported in serious condition.

Man Accused For Failure To Pay Hotel

Also Wanted On Charges Of Stealing Washington Payroll

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — David E. Connors, wanted in Washington, D. C., on charges of fleeing with an $8,460 payroll, faces Allegheny County grand jury action here on other charges.

Police said they arrested Connors in a downtown hotel Tuesday for failure to pay a $115 hotel bill. He was held for court on charges of defrauding an innkeeper, suspicion of burglary and violating the uniform firearms act. He was carrying a .30 caliber revolver, according to police.

A man and a woman arrested with Connors are being held for further investigation. They are Warren Briggs, 24, of Miami, Fla., and Shirley Lantz, 19, of Lebanon, Pa.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation entered Briggs' case after police said he admitted he and Miss Lantz came to Pittsburgh in a car stolen in Baltimore a week ago. Briggs also is a parole violator, police said.

Connors was a clerk for a wholesale auto firm in Washington. Police said he disappeared last Feb. 8 after picking up the company's $8,460 payroll at a bank. According to police, Connors has a 10-year police record, which includes 70 housebreaking charges.

New Students To Be Feted At Northeast

Northeast School will enroll 29 new first grade students tomorrow, after which a program will be presented in their honor by the present first graders.

Raymond Skidmore, principal, said the program will be presented under the direction of Miss Margaret Burkey, assisted b ya group of homeroom mothers.

Miss Burkey said the program includes a rhythm band, a choral group, choral speaking, specialty dancing, and a musical play, "The Handsome Scarecrow." Following the stage presentation there will be games and events in which the newcomers will be invited to participate, and refreshments will be served.

The program is scheduled to begin promptly at 2 p.m., so that it can be completed by the time the school buses leave at 3:15 p.m., Skidmore said. It will be repeated for the entire student body at an assembly program Monday.

Firemen End Vigil At Fire

Firemen last night left Haystack Mountain after more than 24 hours had been spent fighting a fire which burned more than 250 acres of woodland.

William H. Johnson, district forester, said the damage to the woods has not been determined.

Johnson said the fire, which started Tuesday, was brought under control early yesterday morning but crews stayed on until 5 p. m. to prevent the smoldering stumps and logs from flaring up again.

Johnson said the fire destroyed much young timber which was second growth. The area was timbered some years ago, he added. The fire did not burn very deep into the humus of the ground, but leaves and brush burned away. The flames made quick headway in the slashings and brush, he said.

The alarm was sounded Tuesday at 12:30 p. m. and after fire-fighters battled the blaze for more than 10 hours, it flared up again. The flames lighted up the countryside and were visible for many miles.

100 Years Long Enough To Live

HARRISVILLE, Pa. (AP) — "I think I've lived long enough," said Frederick B. Sloan as he celebrated his 100th birthday anniversary yesterday by eating a hearty dinner with his three children and four of his nine grandchildren.

"Man was made to live only three score and 10 years," Sloan said. "Sitting around doing nothing is the hardest work I've ever done."

Sloan was born in Venango Twp. Butler County, about 15 miles from his present home here.

Registration For Voting Is Almost Ended

Today, tomorrow and Saturday will be the last three days for registration for prospective new voters.

The registration will be conducted at city halls in Frostburg, Westernport, Lonaconing and Mt. Savage from 1 until 5 p.m.

The office of the Board of Election Supervisors in the Allegany County Court House will also be open from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. and 6 until 9 p.m. on these days.

Some 96 prospective new voters registered at one of six available points.

As a result of yesterday's registration activity, the Republicans gained an edge of one, signing up 48 while the Democrats registered 47 and one signed up as an independent.

Heaviest registration activity yesterday was at the Board of Election Supervisors office in the Court House basement where 30 were added to the poll books. The 15 Republicans included seven men and eight women while the 14 Democrats included eight men and six women. One woman registered as an independent.

Some 19 registered at the Eckhart School yesterday and 15 of them, seven men and eight women, registered as Democrats. The four Republicans included three men.

There were 15 voters added at Westernport and the same number at Frostburg. Republicans won at both places, getting a 9-to-6 advantage at Westernport and 13-2 in Frostburg. Lonaconing registered only nine yesterday, six Republicans and three Democrats. Mt. Savage added only eight to the poll books yesterday, seven Democrats and one Republican.

Minor Fire Alarms Keep Firemen Busy

City firemen were kept busy yesterday as they were called to extinguish three grass fires and a rubbish and paper blaze.

Central Fire Company was called when a fire broke out in some paper and rubbish behind a building owned by Emmett A. Dougherty at 152 Wineow Street.

Firemen were on the scene for two hours behind the building used by Dougherty to pack waste paper. The owner reported only minor damage.

Central firemen also extinguished a small fire near the Hazelwood Construction Company on Howard Street. Firemen were called when some straw caught fire along the bank in that section.

East Side answered two alarms, the first to put out a small brush fire on Leiper Street and again to extinguish a brush fire on Wills Mountain off Catskill Avenue in North End. Only minor damage was reported in both cases.

The Department of Forests and Parks has issued warnings about the threat of fires, even though Maryland woods have had plenty of snow and rain in recent months.

The weather forecast calls for little or no rain for the next five days, which adds to the fire danger in this section of the state.

Appeal Date Set By Cancer Group

Mrs. Faye Stillwagon, chairman of the house-to-house division of the Allegany County Chapter of the American Cancer Society, announced last night that the campaign drive date has been set for Tuesday, April 29.

Mrs. Stillwagon said a meeting of area captains had been called for last night, but because of a misunderstanding of dates the meeting was not well attended.

She added the captains will meet again today at 7 p. m. in the Cancer Society office in the County Building on Union Street.

Volunteer workers are invited to attend tonight's session.

Moose Officials To Plan State Conclave At Meeting Tonight

Officials of Cumberland Lodge 271, Loyal Order of Moose, will meet today at 7 p.m. to outline plans for the state convention scheduled in Cumberland in June.

George Eaton, regional director, and Samuel Cantella, state secretary of the Maryland Moose Association will be here to help the local lodges with its plans for the state conclave. Ernest B. Treat is local convention chairman.

Following the committee session, the regular lodge meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Plans will be outlined for the installation of officers at the Moose home tomorrow night.

According to Edward Habeeb, chairman of arrangements, this installation will be a public affair. The program will begin in the lodge hall at 8 p. m. and a feature attraction is a drill team from the Women of the Moose from the Keyser Chapter. Habeeb said the participation of the Women of the Moose drill team is a colorful and dramatic part of the ceremony, and he urged all Moose and their friends to see this presentation.

New officers of the Cumberland lodge who will be installed are D. Clifford Goodfellow, governor; Donald Lilya, junior governor; Louis C Soethe, secretary; Thomas Head, prelate; Edward Habeeb, treasurer; and William Winters, George C. Jones and Joseph McFarland, trustees.

Installing officer will be past junior governor, Russell Minnicks. Refreshments will be served following the ceremony, and the regular Friday night open house and dance will be featured.

Democrats Told Works Veto Due

WASHINGTON — (INS) — Senate GOP Policy Chairman Styles Bridges warned today that the Democratic Congress is courting another presidential veto with its billion-dollar local public works loan bill.

The new Hampshire Republican said the big federal aid bill, which passed the Senate last night, may well be vetoed by President Eisenhower if it reaches him in "essentially" its present form.

Such a rejection would be the President's third 1958 veto of so-called "anti-recession" measures from the Democratic-dominated Congress. He already has vetoed the farm price support freeze bill and the 1.6 billion dollar rivers and harbors construction measure.

Wilson Sweene Nominated Mt. Savage PTA President

MT. SAVAGE — The Parent-Teacher Association of Mt. Savage School met recently in the school auditorium. Mrs. Phyllis Reed, president, opened the meeting and Wilson Sweene read the prayer and flag salute. The group sang "America." Miss Marian Bevans introduced representatives of the Cumberland Civil Defense group and a film on first aid was shown.

The membership chairman reported 153 paid up members. The child study chairman, Mrs. Earl Boore, announced that there will be a county meeting tomorrow at West Side School. Ways and Means Chairman Sarah Carter reported a total of $217.10 was realized from the benefit supper. The ground improvement committee consisting of Wilbur Paul and Stewart Delbrook reported they acquired six oak trees for the school.

The nominating committee report was made by Mrs. Eleanor Wingert and the following are on the slate:

President, Wilson Sweene; vice president, Mrs. Louis Arnold; secretary, Mrs. Robert Crouch; treasurer, Mrs. Gladys Pressman; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Frances Trimble; financial secretary, Mrs. Julia Sweene and assistant financial secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Wingert.

A committee appointed to select flowers for graduation is composed of Mrs. Louis Arnold, chairman, Mrs. James Turley, Mrs. George Markwood, Mrs. Sara Carter and Mrs. Irene Fleegle.

Attendance awards were presented to Miss Lea Huff, Grade 3; Miss Florence Aldridge, Grade 4; Blaine Gainor and Jack Morgan high school.

Hubert Radcliff, school principal, made several announcements. Mrs. Reed thanked the Boy Scouts for their assistance in parking cars.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria.

Federal Aid Plan Outlined By Governor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Underwood suggested a five-point program of federal assistance for West Virginia yesterday before the House Committee on Banking and Currency.

The youthful Mountain State governor suggested the federal government could best assist West Virginia's economic slump through the following:

(1) Dispersal of defense and essential industrial plants to protected areas of the state, or establish underground industrial sites in the West Virginia mountains.

(2) Encourage private firms to reopen present idle plants formerly engaged in defense production.

(3) Award substantial volume of military procurement contracts to the state for the first time.

(4) Promotion of research to find new uses for coal as well as products of glass and pottery industries.

(5) Increase public works projects.

Underwood told the committee, however, that he is confident of a bright economic future in West Virginia, although he is not minimizing present problems.

WVU Branch Being Planned

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia University's first off-campus graduate technical center might open next fall with an evening program at Charleston High School.

WVU officials have conferred with Kanawha County School Supt. L.K. Lovenstein regarding the possibility of renting the CHS classrooms until more suitable facilities can be obtained.

Residents Report Sewer Nuisance In Westernport

WESTERNPORT — Seven local property owners and residents have submitted a letter to the State Board of Health in Baltimore to certify that a nuisance exists in the Town of Westernport which they say injuriously affects their properties and is dangerous to health.

The alleged nuisance concerns a stream of water which flows through property of Jacob V. Wilson and Thelma R. Wilson, his wife, near Main Street Extended or State Route 36 in Westernport.

The seven signers of the letter and their two attorneys assert that the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport have caused this stream to become polluted with an ever-increasing volume of sewage from the considerable number of buildings which in recent years have been erected in Westernport on the higher land to the east of the petitioners' properties.

As new buildings are being erected which also discharge sewage into the stream, pollution is growing worse and the volume of flow greater, the letter adds. As hard-surfaced streets, alleys, gutters and catch basins have been built on the higher land, more surface water has been directed into the street.

The petitioners say that as a result the stream overflows at frequent intervals, spreading sewage and filth over their properties and into their homes and places of business. This sewage discharged into the stream has caused foul odors to permeate the homes and places of business of the petitioners, they assert.

They conclude by stating that during the past three years they have made repeated requests and demands of the Mayor and Commissioners of Westernport and of the health authorities but nothing has been done to remedy the conditions. Instead, they say, the conditions grow worse.

Signers of the letter are Jacob V. Wilson, Thelma R. Wilson, George Foster, Perry Duckworth, Roy Dayton, Mrs. John McKenzie, all owners of property; Marshall Wilson, who leases property there, and Thomas Loar Richards, Cumberland, and H. G. Shores, Keyser, as attorneys for the petitioners.

As a result of this letter, Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer, and J. B. Dowling, state sanitarian in Cumberland, conferred with Richards about the matter yesterday but no immediate results were forthcoming.

L. C. Lambert Candidate In Area Election

WESTERNPORT — Lorenza C. Lambert, 242 Wood Street, last night announced his candidacy for council in the May 27 election. He filed a petition containing 36 names with Mrs. Katherine Dailey, town clerk.

Lambert, who is a carpenter, has been a resident of the town for 55 years.

Four other citizens who have filed for commissioner post include Leo Herbert and Alvin Pence, incumbents, Harry M. Richards, a former commissioner and Dr. R. Neil Williams.

The only candidate to file for mayor is Commissioner Ray L. Wilt.

Mayor Okey E. Michael is completing his third two-year term as head of the town government. He is a candidate for county commissioner on the Republican ticket.

At the coming election, four commissioners and a mayor will be elected for a term of two years.

Other citizens desiring to run for office in the town must file five days before the election. They must present a petition containing at least the names of 25 registered voters to the town clerk.

Three Candidates Named For Kelly Memorial Award

KEYSER — Three Keyser High School students have been selected as candidates for the 12th annual J. Edward Kelly Memorial Award sponsored by Loyal Order of Moose Lodge 662.

Named were Melvin Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Parent Davis; Thomas Harman, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Harman, RD 3 and Mark Wenzel, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Wenzel, Burlington.

The event was instituted to perpetuate the memory of Sgt. Kelly, a former Keyser High School and Potomac State College athlete, who won the Congressional Medal of Honor at the cost of his life.

The winner will be announced at an assembly program Wednesday in the school auditorium.

Speaker for the ceremony will be Sen. Chapman Revercomb. The winner will be presented a gold wrist watch and the runners-up will receive pen and pencil sets.

Fire Calls Reported

STC Activities Of Faculty Staff Are Announced

FROSTBURG — R. Bowen Hardesty, president of Frostburg State Teachers College, today listed some of the outside activities of members of the faculty during the last several weeks. He pointed out that these projects are designed to better acquaint local people with the college faculty and to build better community and area understanding.

Dr. Laura B. Harney of the English department addressed the Cumberland National Dinner Club a recent evening, using as her topic "Indonesia."

Dean Ivan C. Dichl spoke at a meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at Lonaconing Elementary School. He told about his recent trip to Labrador. His topic was "Labrador—The Land and It's People."

Dr. Robert T. Novak of the Geography department was the author of an article in a recent issue of "Journal of Geography" entitled "A New Approach to the Teaching of Geomorphology."

Brief Mention

The Frostburg Lions Club has completed final arrangements to present the Tommy Scott Ozark Country Show in the State Teachers College auditorium at 7:30 p. m. June 3. Proceeds will be used for the club's sight conservation project.

The Young Women's Republican Club will meet today at 8 p. m. in the clubroom. Nomination of officers will be held. Ann Scott will preside.

The Youth Fellowship of the Church of the Brethren will serve a chili supper in the church basement today from 5:30 to 7:30 p. m.

Charles Engle was admitted to Miners Hospital after suffering a heart attack in church Sunday.

Admitted to Miners Hospital as medical patients were Louise Bampton, East Main Street; John Nicodemus, Mt. Savage; Martha Blair, Midland and Marlene Hollern, Midland.

John Tomlinson, 22 Davidson Street, was admitted to Miners Hospital as a surgical patient.

Sewage Fees Discussed By Council

WESTERNPORT—Mayor Okey E. Michael and Council last night discussed an ordinance to be enacted for setting up sewage regulations and fees. It was suggested that $1 be charged as a sewage fee where the water bill is $3 or less. Above $3 the fee would be one-third of the water bill.

When the Mayor and Commissioners decide where the sewage disposal plant will be erected, sewer locations will be changed. Town officials feel that the cost of a sewer tap of $10 is too low and think that it should be increased.

These same rates would apply to citizens outside the corporation using the town's sewer line who would pay an additional 20 per cent. The town also reserves the right of inspection.

It would be illegal to put into the sewers any ashes, oil, paint, gasoline or anything having a tendency to stop up the sewers. It was ordered that the proposed ordinance be turned over to Horace P. Whitworth Sr., town attorney, for preparation and advice.

Council ordered that the League of Municipalities be asked for a copy of a proposed sewer ordinance; also to ask the City of Cumberland for a copy of its ordinance.

The lease of the Bureau of Mines for renting the second floor of the town building was renewed for another year at $100 per month.

Summer uniforms will be purchased for members of the Police Deparament. Action was taken following the recommendation of Leo Herbert, police commissioner.

Six hundred and 91 garbage cards have been sold to date, according to the report of Mrs. Katherine Dailey, town clerk. That is about 200 less than sold last year.

Mineral County Clinics Planned At Four Schools

KEYSER — Pre-school clinics for immunizations will be held in four county schools between Monday and April 29.

Clinics will be held Wednesday at Ridgeley School at 10 a. m. and next Thursday at Fort Ashby, starting at 10 a. m.

Monday, clinics will be conducted at Wiley Ford School at 10 a. m. and on Tuesday, April 29, at Keyser Elementary School from 10 a. m. to noon and 1 to 3:30 p. m.

Swim Jobs Open

Applications are now being received for jobs at the Keyser municipal swimming pool, according to an announcement by Pool Director John R. Shelton, who explained that blanks may be secured from either him or from the city clerk.

Three boys and four girls will be hired for the regular work. Applicants must be at least 16 years of age.

Plans are being set up to again sell season tickets priced at $7.50 for students and $15 for adults. Students may purchase tickets now on the installment plan, paying as little as $1 at a time.

Weather permitting, officials hope to have the pool opened around Saturday, May 24. However, this date is subject to change.

Arrangements are also being made to conduct beginners' classes starting about June 16.

Class Meets Tomorrow

FROSTBURG — Mary-Martha Class of First English Baptist Church will meet at the home of Mrs. Melvin Duckworth, Eckhart, tomorrow at 8 p.m. Mrs. Edna Knepp will be in charge of devotions.

Dodgers Switch Again, Clobber SF Giants, 13-1

West Coast fans have had their first taste of major league baseball. They've gone from the spectacular to the sublime. At least the baseball roundup appearing in our sports pages this afternoon is quoted as saying such.

Neither the San Francisco Giants nor the Los Angeles Dodgers, though, appear to have what it takes to bring a National League pennant to the sunny confines of California this year. The Giants are a young club on the rise, the Dodgers are an old club with, apparently, no where to go but down unless some new faces appear on the scene.

After the scads of reports from the recently-completed spring training grind and with full realization that the Yankees can be beaten (They were yesterday, 3-1, by Dave Sisler of the Red Sox), we don't want to climb aboard the band wagon and join in the monotonous chorus that the Yankees are in again. We also don't believe the Milwaukee Braves have built a dynasty to rival the old Brooklyn Dodgers of the late '40s. Why all this? Well it's the hour to pick the pennant winners in the major league races.

After losing more wagers than a no-handicap handicapper at the hoss races on the eventual outcome of the major league winners, it's about time to sit down and give serious thought, hard as it may be, to the participants in this fall's World Series.

Here's how the races look through one pair of bloodshot eyes into several more:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

1. BOSTON — The Thumper ain't thumpin', but when he returns it'll be somethin'.

2. DETROIT — Motor City madness just missed on all the gladness.

3. NEW YORK — Same old story: too much of everything—but not enough victories.

4. CHICAGO—You can't steal first.

5. BALTIMORE—Texas Paul will make Orioles give their all.

6. CLEVELAND — Old and tired.

7. KANSAS CITY—Casts off Yankee complex and starts to make move.

8. WASHINGTON — It's still true—First in War, First in Peace and Last in the American League.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

1. ST. LOUIS—Mr. Vonderful and The Man.

2. MILWAUKEE—Beertown's Burghers set 'em up again but second's the place for an also-ran.

3. CINCINNATI — Pitching's better but so are two other teams.

4. PITTSBURGH — Club to watch and could take it all.

5. PHILADELPHIA — Sophomoritis may hurt. Comeback by Roberts a must.

6. LOS ANGELES- The swallows may come back but Dodgers have long way to go.

7. SAN FRANCISCO — May give league the "Willies" but not enough to threaten.

8. CHICAGO—Even shufflin' by Scheffing won't help.

And while in the prognosticating mood, take this and be prepared to say we told you so:

BATTING—Ted Williams and Stan Musial (who else?).

HOME RUNS—That fella (MM) and Willie M.

RBIs—Al Kaline and Hank Aaron.

PITCHING—Herb Score and Dick Drott.

MVP—Not MM again but Kaline and Aaron.

WORLD SERIES—Bosox in six as Cards don't have Slaughter this time.

Old 'Bums' Rout 'Frisco After Losing 8-0 Opener

By FRED DE LUCA
INS Sports Writer

Talk about going from the sublime to the ridiculous! San Francisco's Giants may have been world-beaters one day but they were bush-leaguers the next.

The Giants made like supermen beating Los Angeles, 8 to 0, opening day. Last night, the old Polo Grounders were pitiful as the Dodgers slugged out a 13-to-1 victory.

Not content with out-humiliating the Giants, the Dodgers pulled a further switch and managed to add injury to insult in the rout.

Podres Fans 11

Southpaw Johnny Podres, hobbled all spring with back miseries, went the distance and gave the Giants just five singles while striking out 11.

Duke Snider, another of the walking wounded, supplied a big portino of the Dodger power by booming a tremendous two-run homer despite his bad knee. Rookie third-baseman Dick Gray also banged a two-run homer and added two singles.

The Giants were as imperfect as they had been flawless the day before. Starter and loser Ray Monzant and his four mound successors were tagged for 15 hits. They also threw in nine walks and a wild pitch. Then there was a hit-batsman, three errors and a passed ball.

Giel Hits Cimoli

The hit batter was Gino Cimoli, who caught a pitch from Paul Giel on his helmet in the seventh inning. Cimoli left the game but was not seriously hurt.

Willie Mays had two of San Francisco's five hits and drove in its only run.

No other National League activity was scheduled yesterday and the American League was limited to three games.

Frank Bolling smashed a three-run homer in the ninth to give Detroit a 5-to-4 victory over the Chicago White Sox. Boston, behind Dave Sisler, won its first of the season, downing the New York Yankees, 3 to 1. Kansas City made it two straight over Cleveland wtih a 9-to-4 triumph.

Bolling's blast on a 3-and-2 count with two out hit the the left field foul pole. It was his fourth straight hit and handed Dick Donovan the loss and George Spencer the win. Homers produced most of the other runs. Bubba Phillips hit one with a man on for Chicago and Sherm Lollar belted a solo circuit. Charley Maxwell homered for the unbeaten Tigers.

Sisler Tames Yanks

Sisler held the Yanks to seven hits and struck out eight. Jackie Jensen provided the big Boston sock by homering off Tom Sturdivant in the first inning after Gene Stephens singled. It was Jensen's second homer of the season.

Sisler himself singled in the third Boston run. The lone New York tally came in the fifth on back-to-back doubles by Hank Bauer and Gil McDougald.

Ralph Terry picked up the KC win. The A's 14-hit attack on six Indian hurlers was led by Bob Cerv who drove in five runs with a homer and a pair of doubles. Ray Narleski couldn't retire anyone but himself in the first inning as the A's scored five times.

DETROIT HEROES — After their team beat the Chicago White Sox for the second day in a row, Detroit players celebrate in clubhouse yesterday. Pitcher Joe Presko (seated) retired the White Sox in order in ninth inning. Charley Maxwell (left) hit a homer; Frank Bolling (center) had a three-run homer that clinched the game; George Spencer (right) was the winning pitcher. Tigers won, 5-4. (AP Photofax)

Gate Mark Seen Toppling In LA Opener Tomorrow

By The Associated Press

Major league baseball stages its second "opening" day tomorrow—home affairs for the clubs that started the 1958 season on the road Tuesday—and figures to write in all-time attendance records with 90,000-plus expected at the Coliseum for the home debut of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

That multitude would top all baseball records, whether for a World Series game, doubleheader or single game in either league.

'Think Big Out Here'

It also gives an indication of what Los Angeles Mayor Norris Poulson had in mind when, while making his pitch to Dodger brass in the spring of 1957 at Vero Beach, Fla., he declared "we think big out there."

While the Dodgers mine gold in their California opener against the San Francisco Giants, the Philadelphia Phillies will beam their night game home opener against Milwaukee via TV into New York's National League vacuum.

Right-handers Al Worthington (8-11 last season) of the Giants and Carl Erskine (5-3) of the Dodgers are the probable starting pitchers as the Horace Greely twins officially convert Los Angeles' mammoth football, track, and rodeo yard into a ball park.

The biggest crowd ever to see a ball game, up to now, is the 86,288 for the fifth game in the Cleveland-Boston 1948 World Series in Cleveland. The NL record is 60,747, for a Giant-Dodger doubleheader at New York's Polo Grounds, May 31, 1937.

Buhl Against Sanford

Bob Buhl (18-7), who led NL starting pitchers with a .720 percentage last year, or Bob Rush, 6-16 with the last place Cubs in '57, will pitch for the world champion Braves at Philadelphia. Jack Sanford, whose 19-8 record made him the NL's rookie of the year, is the Phils' choice.

Bob Purkey, 11-14 for Pittsburgh last season, will face his old mates for Cincinnati while the Pirates plan to go with Ron Kline (9-16).

Young Dick Drott (15-11), who set a Cub strikeout record with 15 in one game (vs Milwaukee) last season, is Chicago's probable starter against the Cardinals' Sam Jones (12-9).

Whitey Ford, the ace of the New York Yankee staff until hit by arm trouble for an 11-5 record last season, makes his first '58 appearance against Baltimore at Yankee Stadium, where the American League champs, now New York's lone team, might draw from 25,000 to 30,000. Billy Loes (12-7) is the Orioles' probable.

Score Goes Again

The Detroit Tigers expect the AL's largest crowd, 45,000, and will send Billy Hoeft (9-11) against Cleveland's Herb Score, who lasted only three innings in Tuesday's defeat by Kansas City that marred his comeback debut after last year's eye injury.

The Chicago White Sox will send Jim Wilson (15-8) against the Athlegics' Alex Kellner (6-5) at Kansas City.

'Rubber Game' Set In 'Frisco Today

By JACK STEVENSON

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's Giants and Los Angeles play the deciding game of their first Pacific Coast series today. Johnny Podres squared accounts for the Dodgers 13-1 last night.

"I've never seen Podres pitch that well against us," Giants Manager Bill Rigney said.

Podres, who won two World Series games from the New York Yankees in 1955, set a personal strikeout mark, fanning 11 Giants. His previous best was 10 Chicago Cubs in 1953.

The left-hander allowed the Giants just five singles.

Rookie third baseman Dick Gray and veteran outfielder Duke Snider sent the Dodgers winging with two-run homers in the only National League game scheduled.

Duke's traveled more than 400 feet and completely over the right field bleachers. He connected in the third inning on a low change-up pitch from Giants starter Ramon Monzant, who also served up the ball that Gray put into the left field bleachers in the second inning.

"Monzant didn't have his fast ball working at all and we didn't get too much help from the relief pitchers," Rigney said after Paul Giel, Jim Constable, Ray Crone and Stu Miller all had shots at the Dodgers. Giel was charged with six runs and Crone three as Los Angeles batters collected 15 hits.

A pitch beaned Dodger center fielder Gino Cimoli, but the ball hit the protective helmet and although Cimoli left the game, he wasn't badly hurt and was named to play today.

Local PE Team To Compete In Dux Tournament

Eighteen bowlers, including eight women, will represent the local team in the annual four-state Potomac Edison Inter-District Bowling Tournament a week from Saturday at Turner's Coliseum in Hagerstown. Both the men's and women's teams from Hagerstown won the tourney last year.

Nineteen teams are expected to compete this year for the President's trophies, awarded to the winning men's and women's teams. Individual trophies will also be presented to the high three-game man and woman bowler.

Walton Bell of Luray, Va., won the men's division in 1957 while Virginia Stoner of Hagerstown took the ladies honors. The tourney will begin at 7 p. m.

The local women's team will be captained by Nina Hemmis and is composed of Ruth Snyder, Sadie Koser, Hazel Kemp, Jeanora Hare, Patricia O'Rourke, Rosemary Mullaney and Mildred Blades.

Hayden Phillips captains the men with his teammates being Edgar Meader, Walter Frederick Jr., Arnold Hartley, Robert Dom, Troy Marks, Laurence Growden, Raymond Clites, Harry Deter and Melvin Emerick.

ROME, Italy—Ted Wright, Detroit, outpointed Sandy Manuel, Nigeria, 10 Welterweights.

Richards Will Start Pappas Against Nats

BALTIMORE (AP) — Milt Pappas, an 18-year-old right-hander with only 20 innings of professional experience, is Baltimore's probable pitcher as the Orioles go against the Washington Senators tonight.

The Birds will be after victory No. 2 over a Washington team they defeated 6-1 Tuesday, opening day. As for a green hand like Pappas pitching the season's second game, Manager Paul Richards said:

"Pappas earned the chance to win a starting job by being one of the most consistent pitchers on our squad all spring."

Richards will swing to his right-hand hitting lineup against Washington southpaw Chuck Stobbs. Outfielder Al Pilarcik will be the only left-handed swinger in the starting lineup.

With Pappas on the mound, 19-year-old Ron Hansen at shortstop and 20-year-old Brooks Robinson at third it will be one of the youngest teams Baltimore has fielded since returning to the majors in 1954.

Key Western Amateur King

DELRAY BEACH, Fla. (AP) — James (Billy) Key, who hasn't played any serious golf in four years, confining his activity to a pleasure round once a week, is the new Western Amateur golf champions.

The Columbus, Ga., bank vice president defeated Technician Third Class Mason Rudolph of Fort Chaffee, Ark., yesterday in the 36-hole finals of the tournament at the Country Club of Florida with a remarkable display of precision iron play and deadly putting. The margin was 3 and 2.

Key had a par 72 for the morning round, a fine performance in itself considering the blustery wind which whipped the sand out of traps in a stinging curtain. But his three-under par 33 going out in the final round was even more remarkable.

Rudolph played fine golf, with 74 for the morning round and a one-under par 35 going out in the afternoon, but he was up against a mechanical man who was unperturbed by any situation.

WVU Gridders To Meet Alumni

MORGANTOWN (AP) — A game against a squad of about 35 former Mountaineer stars will wind up spring football drills for the West Virginia University eleven here May 10.

Coach Art Lewis said the alumni would include linebacker Sam Huff of the New York Giants and Joe Marconi, a back with the Los Angeles Rams.

Fred Wyant, former WVU quarterback now playing in Canadian pro ranks, and former Mountaineer center Chick Donaldson will coach the alumni. Donaldson now is on the WVU staff.

The West Virginia Alumni Assn. will sponsor the contest.

Player Of Day

Jensen Still Solid Socker Sox Outfield

By International News Service

Playing alongside such eye-catching individualists as the Ted Williams and Jimmy Piersall, Jackie Jensen stands out about as much as a firefly in a lightning storm.

But Jensen is the solid all-around member of the Boston outfield trio.

Williams is recognized as baseball's greatest hitter but he leaves something to be desired as a fielder. Piersall is a great fly-hawk but his bat frightens few pitchers.

Jensen, a 31-year-old native San Francisean, combines the best qualities of each. He is a fine fielder with a great arm and he swings a very authoritative bat.

The husky blond right-fielder did just that yesterday as he paced Boston to a 3-to-1 victory over his old teammates — the New York Yankees.

Jensen belted a two-run homer in the first inning to give Boston all the runs it needed. The Red Sox have managed only five runs in three games and Jensen has driven in four of them, two with another homer.

The 5-foot-11, 190-pounder has driven in better than 100 runs in three of his four seasons with the Red Sox. The season he missed, he had 97 RBI's.

Jensen, a one-time all-american football player at California, played for the Yankees and Washington before coming to Boston.

Tigers Reign In ACC Race

By The Associated Press

Clemson's Tigers have the top of the Atlantic Coast Conference baseball race all to themselves today, with Duke's Blue Devils and North Carolina State's Wolfpack falling from the ranks of the ACC unbeaten.

Clemson, now the only unbeaten club in ACC action toppled N.C. State yesterday with a 6-5 victory. Meanwhile, North Carolina's Tar Heels dumped Duke 8-2.

Thus the ACC — with several teams approaching the halfway season mark — stacks up under Clemson in this order: Defending ACC champ Duke 4-1; State 3-1, North Carolina 2-1, Virginia 2-4, Maryland 1-4, South Carolina 1-6 and Wake Forest 0-2.

The standings will remain unshuffled today. The only game scheduled among ACC clubs calls for North Carolina against N. C. State in an exhibition at Parris Island, S. C.

In a non-league affair yesterday, Virginia Tech of the Southern Conference beat Wake Forest 7-5.

LaVale Teams Drill

The LaVale Maroons of the Pen-Mar Little League will practice tomorrow, 5 p. m., at Parkside Field in LaVale. Players who have not played previously in the league are to report on Saturday, 9 a. m. for tryouts while holdovers from both the LaVale Maroons and Orioles will work out at 1 p. m. Saturday.

Ritters To Drill

Ritter's AC of the Rocking Chair Softball League will practice tomorrow, 5 p. m. and Sunday, 2 p. m. on the Celanese diamond.

Sentinels, Explorers To Clash Tomorrow

Although the teams have played only one game, one of the big contests of the season comes up tomorrow afternoon in the Allegany County Interscholastic Baseball League when the defending-champion Fort Hill Sentinels take on a strong LaSalle High club on the Hilltoppers' diamond.

Both the Sentinels, who also are champs of the city, and LaSalle marked up easy triumphs in lidlifters Tuesday afternoon with the swatters of coach "Bobby" Cavanaugh whipping Mt. Savage, 8-3, and Norm Sell's Explorers setting down Valley, 8-2. Fort Hill took the city honors last spring by sweeping LaSalle and splitting with Allegany in the city series.

Alco Also Triumphs

Other contests tomorrow have the Campers at Flintstone while Mt. Savage is at Bruce in Westernport and Valley is host to Beall at Barton. Alco also won its opener for new coach Chet Payne with a 6-2 triumph over Bruce.

Beall joined in the tie for first place as coach Melvin Brown's team clobbered Flintstone, 25-3, yesterday on the Mountain City diamond. The game, originally set for Tuesday, had been set back a day because of the soggy condition of the playing field at Beall.

The Mountaineers, who cracked out 25 hits, scored in only four innings, but had a big 13-run third to completely batter the Aggies.

Dave Richards hurled five frames of no-hit, no-run ball for the Frostburgers and made his exit in the fifth with a comfortable, 25-0, lead. Flintstone's three tallies came off his two relievers.

Dave Whiffs 11

Richards walked only one batter and whiffed 11 in keeping the Flintstone batters at bay.

Butch Smith, Ray Kammauf and Jim Gardner each hit for the circuit and Joe McGowan and Jackie Parker collected four hits apiece for Beall. Heavner, Bible and McPhail had Flintstone's three singles, all coming in the sixth frame. Heavner was the losing pitcher.

Navy's Erdelatz Most Happy Now About Gridders

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — Navy football coach Eddie Erdelatz is a most happy fellow concerning his green but talented squad.

He and his assistant coaches have completed 19 days of spring rebuilding to replace 17 lettermen from last year's squad. It finished with a 9-1-1 record and defeated Rice 20-7 in the Cotton Bowl.

Most of the newcomers have made favorable impressions. Erdelatz said he was particularly impressed by Jim Dunn, the 191-pound sophomore from Rutledge, Pa. Dunn has been converted from jayvee fullback to center on the varsity.

From the plebe squad, fullback Joe Matalavage of Mahoney City, Pa., has made an exceptional showing. And Erdelatz said he was very pleased with the way Joe Tranchini, a sophomore, has taken over the quarterback job. He replaces Tom Forrestal in the No. 1 signal-calling spot.

Aussies, Yanks In Tennis Tests

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Australians met two of the top-ranked players of the United States today in the quarter-final round of the River Oaks Tennis Tournament.

Mervyn Rose, No. 3 in Australia, met ninth-ranked Bernard Bartzen, while Warren Woodcock, Australia's No. 6 star, met fifth-ranked Barry Mackay.

The remainder of the quarter-finals of the 24th annual tournament will be played tomorrow. Top-seeded Dick Savitt, after being given a tough second round battle by Don Candy of Australia, will meet Hugh Stewart of Pasadena, Calif. Third-seeded Louis Ayala of Chile will be paired against Hamilton Richardson.

Champion Navy Oarsmen Return

ANNAPOLIS (AP) — To see them standing there on the beach, nine huskies with their oars, you'd never know it was 38 years ago that they won the Olympic crew championship for Navy.

All of them looked trim and hearty. The stroke, Capt. Clyde W. King of Oakland, Calif., weighs only a few pounds more than his old football playing weight.

The nine, who won the Olympic title at Antwerp, Belgium, came here for Saturday's Navy-Princeton race on the Severn River. The da, was full of memories and Capt. Edwin D. Graves of Washington commented:

"After nearly 40 years, when you're standing next to the guy you used to row behind, it seems like you pulled a race just yesterday."

Wild Horses

The Przhevalski's horse of Mongolia is a true wild horse, unlike the wild horse found on the plains of the American west, which were descendants of domestic horses which escaped from captivity.

Varied Schedule

West Virginia's first-ranked basketball team next season will play opponents from six conferences in addition to the Southern Conference and top eastern independents.

Colleges Now Turning Out Top Golfers

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK —(NEA)— Every Open golf tournament makes it clearer that the superior golfer now comes from the other side of the caddie yard.

The colleges are turning out skillful shotmakers in wholesale lots.

Introducing golf as a carry over sport has become a great vogue among schools and colleges, more than 150 of which now have their own courses. Many more boast teams with easy access to layouts.

Golfers are now recruited like football and basketball players. This led to the entire North Texas State squad being suspended by the United States Golf Association in 1953. Billy Maxwell, Don January, Stan Mosel and Joe Conrad, crack touring professionals, were members of that array. Reinstated by the USGA, Conrad won the British Amateur before joining the money ranks.

Caddie Cart Hurts

It is just as well for tournament golf that the colleges took up considerable of the slack left by the passing of the caddie and the introduction of the caddie cart. There are some 500,000 caddies in this country and many of them went on to be stars of the game.

Dick Mayer, the U. S. Open champion, had the advantage of the better private schools. Jay and Lionel Hebert, the latter the PGA titleholder, were exposed to higher education in Louisiana.

The Masters Tournament further illustrated to what extent the campus has replaced the caddie yard as a source of talent. It was won by Arnold Palmer of Wake Forest. Figuring prominently were young Ken Venturi of San Jose State, the hottest package on the winter circuit, and Duke's Art Wall. Cary Middlecoff forsook dentistry for the golf trail. Al Mengert was an A student in the Pacific northwest seriously considered studying for the priesthood.

Excellent Players

Mike Souchak kicked points after touchdown for Duke. Bo Winninger was a corking back in Oklahoma and George Bayer played tackle for the University of Washington. Peter Thompson went to school in Australia, Gene Littler in California. Julius Boros is a reformed accountant. Dave Ragan, newest star of the circuit, is a Florida alumnus.

"These fellows may not have come into the game with the playing instinct of a lot of former caddies," says old-timer Gene Sarazen, "but they're excellent players and it's better this way.

"Age laws helped ruin the ancient and honorable profession of caddying, and I ask you, what's wrong with a 12-year-old boy carrying a bag of clubs?

"A lot of great men did."

FAST START — Bob Cerv, who at 32 is the oldest regular in the Kansas City starting lineup, has driven in seven runs in the season's first two games. He hit a homer and two doubles in yesterday's 9-4 victory over Cleveland. (AP Photofax).

Youthful A's Being Paced By Vet Cerv

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Fleet-footed youngsters on the Kansas City Athletics are looking with new respect on a ruddy-faced veteran who doesn't fit the svelte new look their club is modeling this year.

Bob Cerv, a 200-pound outfielderl is not so fast on his feet, and he's weak on the throws that cut down base runners, but his bat has driven in seven runs in two games.

Bob, 32, oldest regular in the A's youthful starting lineup, smashed a 400-foot home run and two doubles yesterday. He drove in five runs as the Athletics clobbered the Cleveland Indians 9-4.

The A's, tied with the Detroit Tigers for the American League lead, have looked every inch the battling, running ball club Manager Harry Craft has promised for 1958. But even Craft didn't expect the run-making Cerv and his teammates to explode against supposedly strong Cleveland pitching.

"We will play a tighter defense this year with more daring base running," Craft said after spring training. "If we had a long ball hitter to drive in more runs it could be very interesting."

If Cerv keeps up anything near his present pace, he is just the man Craft is looking for.

Dobbins Acquire Dick Yelvington

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Baltimore Colts said today they have sent defensive halfback John Hermann to the New York Giants and acquired tackle Dick Yelvington from the same club.

Both agreements are on a conditional basis in return for a draft choice. The gridders must also make good with their respective clubs.

Hermann, 6 foot 1, 180-pounder, was drafted by the Giants for the 1956 season after he played college football at UCLA. He was released midway through the '56 campaign and picked up by the Colts. Business activities prevented him from playing last fall.

Yelvington is a 29-year-old veteran of six seasons in the National Football League. Prior to pro days he was with the University of Georgia.

Boxing In Return Here On Saturday

Near-capacity crowds are expected to greet the return of amateur boxing to the Cumberland sport scene when the Maryland novice championships are staged here the next two Saturday nights under the auspices of the local Police Boys Club.

Approximately a half-hundred fledgling flailers are expected to throw leather in the two-day show. The second floor of the building at 38 North Mechanic Street where the City Furniture Store was formerly located will be the scene of the bouts.

Leon Yarneth, boxing chairman of the South Atlantic Association of the AAU, will come here from Baltimore tomorrow night to help with last-minute arrangements. All participants will be weighed in by Yarneth Saturday afternoon between 2 and 4 o'clock at the Mechanic Street address.

The first bout on both nights will get under way at 7:30 and judges will be furnished by the AAU. Luther (Luke) Cox will be the announcer and Vince DePaula Baltimore, will referee all of the bouts.

Officer John Daum and Jimmy Childress, co-directors of the tournament, say more than 500 fans can be accommodated at the Machanic Street hall, including 300 at ringside.

Championships in ten weight classes will be decided. Among those already entered are:

Heavyweights

Skip Grey, 195, PBC; Dick Rank, 190, PBC; [illegible], 200, Eckhart AC.

Bill Campbell Seeks Fourth Amateur Title

HUNTINGTON (AP)— Bill Campbell returns to his favorite course next Monday to defend his North and South Amateur Golf Tournament championship.

The Huntington insurance man seemingly plays the Pinehurst, N.C., No. 2 course like he owns it. Campbell has won the North and South event three times and was runnerup one other time.

"It's my favorite course," Campbell said in reference to the par 72 layout. "It has characteristics like those along the seashore in Great Britain. It has sandy soil and Bermuda type grass — different from the type of grass we have up here."

Campbell, due to other activities, hasn't had much opportunity to practice for defense of his championship. He hopes to stay in match play contention for a couple of rounds in order to get the kinks out of his game.

Campbell defeated Air Force Lt. Hillman Robbins, 3 and 2, in last year's finals. Robbins, the National Amateur Golf champion, is expected back at Pinehurst.

Campbell used to like medal play over match play but recently has changed his preference.

"I find as I get older," the 35-year-old Campbell said, "I'm not as accurate around the greens. I tend to scramble more. In match play, if you have a bad hole, you can make it up on the following hole but that's not true in medal play. One bad hole can finish you."

Campbell also is the defending state amateur golf champion. He has won the title five times. His friendly golfing rival from Charleston, Ed Tutwiler Jr., has won the state amateur crown seven times.

The two have been invited to play for the Virginias team this weekend against the Carolinas at Pinehurst. Campbell plans to accept the invitation. Tutwiler is undecided.

The North and South ranks along with the Western Amateur and the National Amateur as the top golfing tournaments of the year for the play-for-fun set.

Campbell estimated that about 150 will attempt to qualify next Monday. The field is limited by invitation. The low 64 qualifiers in Monday's medal play round will move into match play Tuesday. The 36-hole finals will be held Saturday.

"I only hope I can make a good showing," Campbell said. "I've only played about 6½ practice rounds this year but an amateur is supposed to be playing for fun anyway."

Boyd Decisions Neal Rivers For Impressive Win

CHICAGO (AP)—"I just told him that he had better win or he would have to start way at the bottom of the ladder and would be fighting in Hoboken or somewhere."

It's Bernie Glickman speaking. He manages middleweight Bobby Boyd, 24. Bob took him seriously.

The long-armed Chicago Negro, two years ago the No. 1 middleweight contender, unloaded a variety of punches and pounded away steadily to defeat Neal Rivers last night.

It was an impressive victory for Boyd, who is trying to come back after being clubbed out in 1956 by Joe Giardello.

Rivers, ranked No. 8 by the NBA, had only one good round in the nationally televised bout in Chicago Stadium. The decision was about as lopsided as it could get. All officials favored Boyd by a wide margin.

Rivers weighed 160¾ and Boyd 160.

Rodgers Chosen Most Valuable

BOSTON (AP) — All America Guy Rodgers of Temple today was picked as the most valuable all star team member at the end of the exhibition basketball tour with the Harlem Globetrotters.

Rodgers, brilliant 6 foot, 22 year old playmaker, was selected by a count of votes by sportswriters covering each of the 18 games on the tour.

The Trotters' Roman Turman was named the outstanding member of his club.

The tour ended last night at Boston Garden with the All Stars winning 87-77. The Globetrotters took the series 13-5.

Buck Baker To Shoot For Third '500' Title

MARTINSVILLE, Va.—The big question for the third annual "Virginia 500" NASCAR Grand National circuit race scheduled for Martinsville Speedway next Sunday, is whether Buck Baker of Spartanburg, S. C., can repeat his 1956 and 1957 performances.

As the Martinsville "Virginia 500" goes, so goes the NASCAR Grand National championship. That was typical in 1956 when Baker piloted a 1956 Dodge to victory in the first 500-lap race ever staged over the half-mile banked asphalt Martinsville track. And it was true again last year when Baker repeated at Martinsville, driving a 1957 Chevrolet and continued the move to another national crown.

This same Baker will be back Sunday seeking his third Martinsville triumph, and this time he will be driving a 1958 Chevrolet.

Failing to score in only one of the 15 events, the Fort Hill High thinclads opened their 1958 track and field season yesterday by winning a triangular meet at South Hagerstown. The host Rebels finished second and North Hagerstown was third.

The Red Raiders, who will compete in the strong Handley High Invitational meet this Saturday at Winchester, Va., compiled 69⅔ points while South had 46½ tallies and the Hubs 35 5/6ths.

Scoring heavily in the field events, coach Bill Hahn's athletes overcame the bid by South Hagerstown in the dashes and running tests. Fort Hill took five first places in the 220-yard dash, 180-yard low hurdles, shot put, mile relay and 880-yard relay. The locals also tied for first in the 100-yard dash, pole vault and high jump.

Charles Robinson won the low hurdles and tied for first in the high jump with teammates Bob Rowley and Mike Holshey. Danny Webster had a first in the 220-yard run and a tie in the 100 while both Webster and Robinson ran for the winning relay team in the mile to share top scoring honors.

South High registered firsts in the 440 and 880 runs, the mile run, the 440 relay and the two-mile relay while North High had a first in the broad jump and ties in the 100 yard dash and the shot put.

Keedy's Homer Puts Keyser On Top PVC Baseball Race

Although held to only four hits, Keyser High took over the lead in the Potomac Valley Conference yesterday by whipping Fort Ashby, 4-3, on the Eagles' diamond. The triumph was the third in as many starts for coach Fred "Tack" Clark's nine.

The Golden Tornado, victors over Southern of Oakland and West Virginia Deaf, will be idle tomorrow but ten of the 17 clubs in the circuit are billed for action.

Petersburg and Elk Garden, both winners in their openers Tuesday, will be after their second triumphs as the Vikings are at Moorefield and the Stags invade Romney. Other contests will show Capon Bridge at Berkeley Springs, Franklin invading Circleville and West Virginia Deaf at Fort Ashby.

Keedy's Homer Decides

Gary Keedy's homer with a mate aboard in the fifth gave Keyser its victory yesterday and shoved Fort Ashby to its second setback in two starts.

Keyser took an early lead in the first inning when Jay Shaw singled, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and tallied on an outfield error.

In the Fort Ashby fourth the Eagles rallied to grab a 3-2 lead as Phil Meadows reached first on an error. Bill Price promptly tripled him home and raced across with the lead run on shortstop Jay Shaw's fumble of a grounder.

Walk, Then Boom!

Keedy's homer which followed in the next inning to close out the scoring came after Jay Shaw opened the fifth with a walk.

Righthander Bob Staggs picked up his second victory without a loss for Keyser, allowing only three hits and whiffing five as he bested the Eagles' Harold Hershberger.

Sam Barnes had two of the losers' three hits including a three-bagger. Keedy had a single in addition to his game-winning homer.

International Opens Without Any Incidents

By International News Service

The Buffalo Bisons were afraid they might be involved in "incidents" in revolt-torn Cuba, but the only fireworks they saw opening day were supplied by the Havana Cigar Kings.

The Bisons were en route to winning the first game of the 1958 International League season last night, until Havana came to bat in the last of the ninth.

The Sugar Kings exploded against reliever Steve Nagy to score three runs and eke out a 6-to-5 victory.

In other games, Rochester whipped Miami, 2 to 1, as Dick Ricketts was credited with the victory. Columbus and Art Swanson topped Toronto's defending champs, 3 to 2, and Montreal crushed Richmond, 8 to 4, behind Bill Harris.

Goosie, Regan, Goalby Added To Texas Field

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—J. C. Goosie, Dave Ragan and Bob Goalby were added today to complete the field of 48 golfers scheduled to play in the Colonial National Invitation tournament here April 30-May 4.

Only one of the invitees was of doubtful status. Ed Furgol underwent an operation for an elbow injury at Durham, N. C., and may not be able to play golf again for two or three weeks. However, he has not withdrawn and Colonial officials were hopeful he would recover sufficiently to participate.

Ragan, only 22, will be the youngest professional in the tournament. He was the fourteenth money winner on the winter tour.

Goalby won his first tournament last weekend when he triumphed at Greensboro. Goosie tied for sixth place in the Tijuana Open and won both the El Dorado Pro-Amateur and the El Centro Open.

The golfers expected to play here are:

Al Balding, George Bayer, Al Besselink, Tommy Bolt, Julius Boros, Jack Burke, Billy Casper, Jimmy DeMaret, Roberto de Vincenzo, Gardner Dickinson Jr., Dow Finsterwald, Jack Fleck, Doug Ford, Ed Furgol, Bob Goalby, J. Kansas Relays Seen Best Since World War

LAWRENCE, Kas. — (INS) — The greatest competition since World War II is expected in the 33rd Kansas Relays this weekend at Kansas University.

Battles are scheduled in at least four of the seven university-class relays. Three Olympians will be in the field, along with six national champs from last year's NCAA, NAAU, and NAIA meets.

Al Oerter of the host Jayhawkers is a triple winner, having won the discus at Melbourne and added the NCAA and NAAU victories last year.

The other Olympic stars entered are Dave Lean, Michigan State Australian, and Eddie Southern, Texas' powerful quarter-miler.

WVU Frosh Beat Bobcats In 7-2 Game

Frostburg State failed in its bid for its second victory in three starts yesterday as the West Virginia University freshmen whipped the Bobcats, 7-2, at Mt. Savage.

A big four-run third inning chopped down the Mountain City nine as the invaders swiftly moved to a 5-1 lead, sparked by a homer by Larry Ewing over the right-field fence. The victory extended the Frosh's streak over Frostburg with the Bobcats losing both games last season, 5-0 and 15-14.

Craig Mankin mowed the Frostburg batters down, allowing only six hits, including a double by Carl Donald, and being touched for single runs in the third and eighth innings.

Three batters shared Frostburg's bingles with Donald, Arch Lennox and Doug Sullivan each garnering two hits.

In addition to the circuit clout by Ewing who also collected a single, the Freshman nine had a three-hit performance by first baseman Charles Farrah. The big first sacker banged out a run-scoring ninth inning triple and two singles.

Hugh Nolan, who pitched well except for the third frame, absorbed the defeat for coach Walden Skinner's Frostburgers. He was relieved by Emerick in the sixth and the latter allowed only two hits and a run in four innings.

Frostburg will try to even its season's record when the Bobcats travel to Shepherdstown to battle the Shepherd College Rams Saturday.

Texas Choice To Take Meet

DALLAS (AP)—Texas is a strong favorite to win the championship but Oklahoma, Southern Methodist and Abilene Christian should share well in the record-breaking tonight in the Dallas Invitational Track and Field Meet.

Olympic champion Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian will have his hands full in the sprints as he runs against his teammate, Bill Woodhouse, who twice in a row has conquered him in the 100-yard dash. Dee Givens of Oklahoma, Hollis Gainey of Texas and possibly Eddie Southern, Texas' great quarter-miler, who may pass up his favorite event in favor of the 100 and 220.

Southern would appear a virtual certainty to crack the 440-yard record of 47.8 if he ran that one because he already has done 46.7 this season. But coach Clyde Littlefield of Texas said unless the weather turned bad Southern would enter the sprints. The Longhorn star has done 100 in 9.4 and 220 in 20.7 this year.

The dash field might approach the record of 9.3 in the 100 which Morrow shares with Dean Smith of Texas. The 220 mark is 20.4.

WVU Thinclads After Third Win

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia University's track team goes after its third straight victory against Virginia Military Institute Saturday at Lexington after defeating Westminster, Pa., 80-51.

The Mountaineers also piled up an 80-51 margin over Slippery Rock Teachers in their opener last Saturday. Yesterday's meet saw pole vaulter Dave Tork of WVU break the Mountaineer Field record, and set a new mark for himself.

Tork cleared 14 feet, 1¼ inches. The old mark here was 13 feet, eight inches, and Tork's best effort before yesterday was 14 feet in an indoor meet in New York's Madison Square Garden.

Ray Peterson and Dick Guesman, both football stars, each tallied 10 points for WVU. Peterson won the 100 and 220-yard dashes in times of 9.75 and 22.3 seconds, respectively. Guesman won the shot put and discus.

Kentucky Derby Golf Tourney Starts Today

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—This city, known most of the year as Louisville, begins its annual change into derbytown today as the second annual $20,000 Kentucky Derby Open Golf Tournament gets under way.

The first of the field of 111 professionals tees off at par-72 Seneca Golf Course at 8:45 a. m.

The 72-hole, four-day tournament starts a parade of events which lasts about a month—the highlight coming May 3 with the 84th running of the Kentucky Derby.

Producers Unanimous For Hiring Lana Turner

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Would you hire Lana Turner for a movie?"

This question was put to a dozen producers this week at the Screen Producers Guild dinner. These are the men who make the casting decisions, who can make or break a star.

Their answer was unanimous: absolutely yes.

"I wouldn't hesitate to cast her in a picture if I had the right property," said Buddy Adler, production chief at 20th Century-Fox.

"I not only would cast her, I'm actively seeking her for 'The Sound and the Fury,'" said Jerry Wald, who produced Lana's current starring film, "Peyton Place."

He added: "We've had a spot check around the country of reactions by audiences watching 'Peyton Place.' The response has been warm and sympathetic."

Said David O. Selznick: "Certainly I would cast Lana if I had the right part for her. Church authorities have stated that they will not censure performers because of their private lives."

Producer-star John Wayne was vehement in his reply: "Sure, I'd hire her! If people don't stop picking on that poor girl, I'd star her in the green rushes." He referred to the uncut versions of a day's work in a studio.

Veteran Bryan Foy remarked: "Lana will be bigger than ever. The tide of public opinion is going in her direction."

William Thomas, a veteran exploiter of films, had this realistic comment: "I'd like to have a small piece of her next picture. It'll be a smash. It's what you call a freak attraction — people who haven't even seen a movie will go to watch her. After the first picture, her career will settle down to what it was before."

It is ironic that Lana's first picture after her daughter Cheryl's fatal stabbing of Johnny Stompanato will be the one on which she stands to profit the most. The film is "Another Time, Another Place," the first production by her own Lanturn Productions.

JAYNE GETS OK TO TAKE DAUGHTER — Actress Jayne Mansfield, all dressed up, including an ostrich feather hat, and accompanied by husband Mickey Hargitay, poses with Judge Elmer D. Doyle, right, in Los Angeles after she was given permission to take her eight-year-old daughter, Jayne Marie, along on a trip to Europe. Jayne leaves next week for London to make a movie. Under a divorce agreement, the actress can't take her daughter out of California without court permission. (AP Photofax)

New Style On Theatre Hour Appeals

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK — (INS) — Kraft Theatre's artistic reins changed hands last night and the new dramaturgical deal — with Sidney Lumet directing — provided three old short plays by Tennessee Williams.

They were introduced by the author, given impeccably careful production and indicate more depth and appreciation for the modern drama will be Kraft's rule henceforth.

The three Williams' playlets, written in the "quaint period of The Thirties," as the author said in his frontispiece, ranged widely in impact.

The first, "Moony's Kid Don't Cry," contained as in fact all three did, Williams' customary savage compassion for hopeless addicts of poverty.

It came off, despite the expensive presence of Ben Gazzara and Lee Grant of the Actor's Studio school of ugly naturalism.

Gazzara's "style" was a confusion of eruptions, in the end sinking to the lugubrious in typical inability of a Williams character to escape the hopeless ugliness of his foreordained dirty corner of life.

More dignity and pure character went into the writing and performance of "The Last Of Solid Gold Watches," a gentle slice of hopelessness, as a 78-year-old salesman, stubborn and gallant, realizes his inability to stem the onrush of inferiority, the bitter frustrations of old age, depression, and a cheapening world.

It seemed to anticipate death of a salesman, just before the final march toward his death, where Thomas Chalmers acted with depth and understanding.

Alonso Bosan, a veteran of countless minor gems of mood and memories of other lost lives, did beautifully by his small significant role.

Gene Saks, as an intellectual and human lightweight, was just right.

"This Property Is Condemned," the final play, was written in the tears of a pitiful little girl lost in the dregs of poverty and lovelessness, whose ethereal dirtiness and mystical ugliness are blood relatives of Blanche Dubois of "Streetcar Named Desire."

The little girl, an amazing tour de force by Zina Bethune, all but tore your heart out with twisted memories as she tottered between her tawdry world and terrible, hopeless expectations, of the future, translated into a death wish for a beautiful ending like when she saw Greta Garbo in "Camille," her version of a happy solution.

It was nearer the mood of compassion seen, darkly, through the aberrations which are Williams' major stock in trade.

They didn't send anyone away from the set whistling nor smiling, but their effect, the last two anyway, was a sort of grubby beauty. It will be interesting now to see if Kraft Theatre's bland old expectation can stand the shock of this sterner stuff.

As a new start, it was effective.

According to the Social Security System, Smith is the most common name on its rolls — 1,400,009 of them.

Optimist Club To Hear Officer

Officer Warren Brehm of the Police Department spoke at yesterday's meeting of the Optimist Club at Central YMCA.

Brehm also attended the Boys' Club session. His topic was "Rifle Club."

The program for April 23 will feature W. H. Schmidt Jr., director of public relations for the B&O Railroad; and on April 30 Hubert Radcliffe, principal of Mt. Savage High School, will speak.

At a recent meeting the Cumberland club elected Leo Barkman as president. Other officers are Robert Esler, vice president; Lester Hudson, vice president; Sam Dishong, sergeant-at-arms.

Board of governors, two years, Frank Kaplon, Lyndon Gump, Donald Mason and Carl Winfield; one-year term, Harold Brooks, Ray Kenney, D. D. Miller and D. L. Miller.

I. N. Evans was appointed secretary.

Installation of officers will be held jointly with the Bedford Road Club Friday, June 27.

White Released From Hospital

Henry J. White, 74, of 26 Greene Street, who cut both his arms Tuesday night at his home, was released yesterday afternoon from Sacred Heart Hospital.

White was admitted to the hospital after losing a considerable amount of blood from two large cuts on his arms.

Detective Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Joseph Harvey said White apparently had inflicted the cuts with a small pocket penknife which he still held when police entered his home in response to an emergency call from a neighbor.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Thomas C. Gordon who died April 17, 1955.
Always so true, unselfish and kind,
Only a few his equal you'll find
A beautiful life that came to an end
He died as he lived everyone's friend.
Beautiful memories of a smiling face
A broken link no one can replace
Whatever else we fail to do,
We'll never fail to think of you.
Sadly missed by his wife and family.

In loving memory of Pfc. William Frederick Kincaid Sr., who was killed in action in Germany, April 17, 1945.
The ones who think of you today
Are the ones who love you best.

NOTICE

Pursuant to the provisions of Section 127 of the Charter of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, (1950 Edition), notice is hereby given that the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland did, in regular session Monday, March 24, 1958, approve the Report of Commissioners for the closing of that portion of Homestead Avenue from its intersection with the southerly side of Fourth Street to its intersection with the southerly side of Second Street, as shown on the plat of South View Addition dated August 15, 1948, said portion of said street being that part which abuts on Lots 81 to 93, both inclusive, and Lots 103 to 115, inclusive. Said Commissioners were appointed by virtue of Ordinance No. 2080 for the purpose of assessing any damages or benefits incurred by or accruing to any owners of property affected by the closing of said portion of said street.
After meeting on the premises (10:00 o'clock A. M. March 18, 1958) and hearing those persons who would be affected by the closing of said portion of said street, the Commissioners present the following:
"After careful examination of the street to be closed, your Commissioners feel that none of the adjacent property owners are affected thereby, and that no damages will be caused by the aforesaid closing to the owners or possessors of any property located along said street, nor will any material benefits be derived therefrom by the abutting property owners.
Since the closing of said portion of Homestead Avenue hereinbefore recited has been accomplished at the request of The Potomac Edison Company, the undersigned are of the opinion that the cost incident to the closing should be charged by the Mayor and City Council of Cumberland to said Potomac Edison Company, and we assess the cost of the same to the petitioner, it being our determination that the payment of said cost offsets any special benefits which said company may derive from said closing."
Any person, persons, firm or corporation feeling aggrieved by the decision of the Commissioners may appeal therefrom within thirty days after March 24, 1958, by filing written notice of such appeal with the City Clerk of the City of Cumberland, Maryland, who will transmit same to the Circuit Court for Allegany County to be docketed for jury trial.

Your Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

For Friday, April 18, 1958

MARCH 21 to APRIL 20 (Aries) — A day with some qualms, perhaps, but on the whole responsive to intelligent management and forethought, for sincere and systematic efforts throughout. Don't go to extremes but be busy.

APRIL 21 to MAY 21 (Taurus) — Similar to Aries but more emphasis on the artistic side here now. We can all make a day better or worse according to how we think and do. Have no doubts, no anxiety; go straight ahead.

MAY 22 to JUNE 21 (Gemini) — A lightening of all emotions urged but generous leeway for bright ideas and worthy activities with which you are familiar. We can always accomplish more when we have to work harder and remain calm.

JUNE 22 to JULY 23 (Cancer) — Your best judgment can do a lot of good if you put it to work in the right places and on the important tasks. No day to waste time on non-essentials, frivolous things.

JULY 24 to AUGUST 23 (Leo) — Soften down emotions, take sufficient time to study that which is before you and how best to manage schedule. Maybe some matters that seem inconsequential should be examined for further importance.

AUGUST 24 to SEPTEMBER 23 (Virgo)—Good period for clearing desk, bench, household to enjoy and enter into social and religious activities that truly benefit. Don't spend all your time with family affairs; health requires diversion.

SEPTEMBER 24 to OCTOBER 23 (Libra) — Can profit heeding advice to Leo now. Intricate tendencies, business or work matters that require keen discernment and look-ahead judgment can be benefited by your able talents.

OCTOBER 24 to NOVEMBER 22 (Scorpio) — Strong determination, guided by fair judgment and true charity of feeling, will help you solve problems and aid others in tight situations. An amenable day but needs clever handling.

NOVEMBER 23 to DECEMBER 21 (Sagittarius) — Some days are easier to manage, or seem so. Often we are more alert and willing to work more satisfactorily for achievement on this sort of day. Where there's a will, there's always a way.

DECEMBER 22 to JANUARY 20 (Capricorn)—You have a heap of talent and unusual ability to put into this and other days. And, remember, intelligence and serenity (you have both) are big aids, ut them to work now.

JANUARY 21 to FEBRUARY 19 (Aquarius) — Greatly up to you, the system you have and the consistency with which you manage big and small tasks or problems. Fall in line where you should, but say "No" firmly where you should. Faith!

FEBRUARY 20 to MARCH 20 (Pisces)—May be a day for more definite decisions. Clear, straight thinking and handling calmly "rough" situations are urgent. You are equal to it. Don't permit anxiety; it hampers advancement.

YOU BORN TODAY: Farseeing, courageous, at times tend to rashness, irritability. Your many strong characteristics can be turned to great usefulness. Without sensible control they can become hampering obstacles. An alert mentality and ability to do many things well and profitably. Can succeed in a profession, a scientific field where knowledge of machinery, tools, engineering and automation are needed. You can do well as teacher, lawyer, business executive. So much you can achieve! Birthdate of (Flavius) Gratian, Roman emperor.

Training Course Set By Scouts

A training course will be held tonight at Frostburg State Teachers College for scoutmasters and post advisors of Potomac Council, Boy Scouts of America.

A dinner at 6:30 p.m. will open the program and will be followed by a fellowship period.

Dean K. S. McKee of Potomac State College, Keyser, will talk on "Leadership" and there will be a panel of scoutmasters to conduct a question and answer period.

The training course is required for both the key and the award, and assistant scoutmasters, troop committee members and adult scouters are invited to attend the meeting.

Opening lead—♠ 4

The game was duplicate and the final three no-trump contract fairly reasonable. A spade was opened at all tables and South held off until the third lead.

Most South players simply ran five diamonds and hoped against hope that East would let go of a spade. Needless to say no one obliged and South had to lose five tricks.

One South player got a better idea. He knew that this particular East was a greedy player and would not settle for a one-trick set when he might do better. So South cashed the ace and king of diamonds and shifted to the queen of hearts.

The idea was that East might play him for two diamonds only and hold off that heart lead.

Unfortunately for his scheme, East went right up with the ace and settled for the one-trick set. You see, East knew that South held another diamond.

How did East know? East and West were using the defensive echo to show an even number of cards in a suit. With four diamonds, West would have played high low on the two diamond leads. At it was, his first diamond play was the deuce and his second the five. This showed three diamonds so East had no problem.

Q—The bidding has been:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
3 ♠	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠ 4 3 ♥ K 2 ♦ 7 5 3 2 ♣ A K 9 7 6
What do you do?

A—Bid three no-trump. You have a heart stopper and four diamonds and only two little spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Medical TV Show Causes Controversy

LONDON — (INS) — A third English woman has taken her own life after watching a controversial BBC television medical series which shows actual surgical operations being performed in London hospitals.

Mary Melia, 43 and a bride-to-be, watched a serious heart operation on the program entitled "Your Life is in Their Hands" three weeks before she was to enter a hospital to undergo the same operation.

She later committed suicide by inhaling gas. At an inquest yesterday her father testified that he had tried to persuade her not to look at the program.

The coroner said "it is difficult to say if the program led to her death."

Last week, Walker Billows said at an inquest that he thought his wife, Irene, 30, gassed herself because the medical program had preyed on her mind.

Three weeks earlier Mrs. Edna Burbidge gassed herself after watching a cancer program. Her doctor said Mrs. Burbidge did not have cancer.

Smith New Head Of Dinner Club

Douglas Smith, Narrows Park, last night was elected president of the Cumberland Dinner Club.

Other new officers are Mrs. Leonard Schwab, vice president, and B. U. Smith, secretary-treasurer. They will take office at the opening of the club's season next fall.

Three new members of the board of directors also were named at last night's meeting. They are Thomas Lohr Richards, C. N. Foose Jr., and Mrs. John Hafer, current president.

The club also added a seventh program to its season. This will be a talk Thursday, May 22, at Central YMCA at 7 p. m. by John J. Eisenhart of Pikesville, of the Free State Forum.

Before the invention of the rifle, infantry soldiers used the musket, which first appeared in the 1500s.

Former Local Man Relates Murder Detail

Statement Given By Earl Steward Read To Jurors

ELKO, Nev. (AP) — A murder trial jury has heard Earl L. Steward's version of the slaying of an Iowa truck driver.

Steward, 39, of Baltimore, is accused of the fatal shooting last September of Thomas R. Jessen, 55, Jamaica, Iowa, as the men traveled eastward across Nevada in Jessen's moving van. Steward once was a resident of Cumberland, Md.

Dist. Atty. Grant Sawyer yesterday read the jury a statement he said was made by Steward last October after his arrest by the FBI in Philadelphia.

In the statement, Steward admits the killing, but said it came about in a scuffle for a gun Jessen had pointed at him. Jessen was in the sleeping bunk at the time, said the statement, and produced the gun after objecting to Steward's method of driving.

The statement added that Steward turned in the seat — letting the truck find its own way — and scuffled with Jessen for the gun. It discharged four times, killing Jessen.

Elko County Sheriff Jesse Harris testified that Steward subsequently fixed the exact location of the incident as being in California west of Reno. The highway at that point was under construction and rounding a curve over a precipitous bank, said Harris. This was an attempt to contradict Steward's statement that the truck moved along the highway unattended during the scuffle.

The district attorney told the jury he would show that Jessen still was alive at Fernley, Nev., some 50 miles east of the point fixed by Steward as the scene of the slaying.

Policeman Proves He Has Recovered

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Harold Baker, 42, can offer first-hand testimony that 40-year-old Police Lt. Norman Sinning recovered completely from an attack of polio that struck him last year.

The lieutenant, who was bedfast for several weeks with partial paralysis of one leg, chased Baker for a full block to arrest him for drunkenness. He finally downed his quarry with a perfect flying tackle.

Summit Meeting Would Have Limited Results

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any summit meeting between President Eisenhower and Premier Khrushchev could at best have only very limited results, perhaps no more than a slight easing of tensions.

The best possible result would be an agreement on disarmament: the abolition of nuclear weapons. This would free the world of the fear of annihilation. But that appears to be out of the question for the foreseeable future.

Therefore, any agreement reached at the summit would be something less than the ideal. But does that make such a meeting undesirable? Secretary of State Dulles and former Secretary of State Acheson are cold to a summit get-together.

Acheson even opposes the thought of a president taking part in such a meeting. To support his position he cites President Wilson's disappointments after World War I and the flimsy results of Eisenhower's summit meeting in Geneva in 1955.

In the past the meetings of the heads of government have been surrounded with such pomp, ceremony and importance that the world was filled with great expectations and therefore great disillusionments when the ideals were not attained.

Because of that, perhaps, and because of the traditional stuffed-shirt positions of governments, such meetings were seldom held. But with the passing years the world has been narrowed down by the speed of transportation and communications.

In the future it may be desirable, and more sensible, to have the heads of state meet rather frequently, not in the hope of settling all the problems or even a few of the biggest ones but only just some.

Such head-to-head meetings at the top might be able to clear away in short order problems which otherwise would take years of negotiation between foreign ministers or ambassadors or letter writing between presidents and premiers.

Acheson and Dulles seem to be thinking in the past, with their misgivings about a summit conference. Eisenhower appears more contemporary than they do, and more conscious of the changing nature of the world.

He has repeatedly expressed a willingness to meet with the Soviets if he believes it will do some good.

True, there are pitfalls to such a meeting. The Soviets might try to use it, not for legitimate efforts to settle anything, but to make propaganda for themselves.

But Eisenhower and his advisers should be able to take care of themselves. To think otherwise is to assume the Soviets are smarter.

If fear of Soviet tricks continues to grow in this country, the result may be to make American thinking, from the highest to the lowest levels, self-conscious, defensive and even backward.

Various reasons could be given why agreement on the abolition of nuclear weapons is out of the question in the foreseeable future. Several will suffice:

1. To make sure there would be no cheating, an elaborate checking system would have to be established here, in Britain and in the Soviet Union. Even if it were possible to work out a foolproof system, it would take years to negotiate.

2. Even agreement on abolishing the present supply of nuclear weapons might not be enough. The racing progress of science in the weapons field might produce death-dealers never dreamed of at a summit meeting now.

3. So long as this country — with its nuclear weapons — has the power to retaliate with devastation against Soviet aggression, the Soviets will be reluctant to start a war.

To surrender nuclear weapons in the oncoming years would be to abandon a decisive deterrent to war for a return to the old modes of warfare, and they never prevented war in the past.

Boy Fatally Injured By Father's Truck

ALTOONA, Pa. (AP) — A truck fatally injured John W. Baldwin, 3, yesterday near his Bellwood home. Coroner D. Harold Troxell of Blair County said the victim's father, Wayne Baldwin, was backing the truck out of an alley as the boy dashed into the rear of it.
